Catholic Authorities and State Officers Firm in Position as Zero Hour Comes.

FINAL SERVICES HELD BY PRIESTS

Pope Pius Represented as Reluctant To Impose Interdict; Papal Delegate Expelled.

Angry Mexican Crowd Stone Attorney General

Mexico City, July 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—Crowds stoned Attorney General Ortega and a party of department of justice officials tonight while they were closing the annexes of St. Catherine's church.

The officials took refuge in one of the church buildings, where they remained for a while, then forced their way out by discharging their pistols in the air and using whips and canes upon the attacking party.

At this moment firemen arrived and turned the hose upon the people, causing them to flee.

Mexico City, July 30.—

Detachments of federal troops have been ordered to patrol the streets and roads in the villages and open country of the federal district, ready to give assistance to the municipal authorities of the towns and villages if disturbances arise over the religious situation.

The troops traveling in motor-cycles and automobiles have instructions to shoot any one offering resistance.

These steps have been taken because of reports of intense excitement in the suburbs and outlying villages, especially among the Indians.

Worshippers at the Catholic church of Santa Julia in Tacuba, a Mexico City suburb, became excited this afternoon when two aldermen and the municipal secretary came to the church to discuss with the priests the delivery of the church to a municipal committee tomorrow. They massed around the officials and began stoning them, preventing their entry to the edifice.

Begin Closing Doors.
At dusk services had already ceased in most of the churches, carrying out the orders of the Mexican episcopacy, as a protest against the new religious regulations. The priests began closing the doors in the late afternoon, so as to be able to prepare inventories of church property before departing.

Thus many thousands of Catholics, still hoping to enter the churches for final devotions, were turned away disappointed, although before the services were suspended at the cathedral, the church authorities granted the movement of intention to all those in the great waiting crowd. This constituted general confirmation for

Cummins Administered Oath to Mrs. Felton

Senator A. B. Cummins administered the oath of office to Mrs. Rebecca Latimer Felton, of Georgia, first woman to serve in the United States senate. When Mrs. Felton was sworn in on November 21, 1922, Senator Cummins was serving as president pro tempore of the senate in the absence of Vice President Coolidge and by virtue of his position administered the oath that made Mrs. Felton a member of that body.

SENATOR CUMMINS DIES SUDDENLY AT IOWA HOME

Famous Political Leader and Co-Author of Esch-Cummins Act, Taken by Heart Trouble.

Des Moines, Iowa, July 30.—Senator Albert Baird Cummins, one of the greatest political figures of the west, is dead here at the age of 76 years.

The veteran Iowa republican had been ill for only two days and physicians said a heart attack was the immediate cause of his death.

Cummins' condition had not been considered critical until afternoon Friday when members of his family were summoned to the bedside. From 1 p. m. until 4:30 the aged senator sank rapidly and at 5 o'clock Mrs. Hollis A. Rawson, a daughter, announced that her father was dead.

Mrs. Rawson, Miss Margaret and Miss Anne Cummins, sisters, and Cummins Rawson, a grandson, were in the Cummins' home when the end came.

News Shocks State.
News of the senator's death came as a shock to Iowa. Newspapers began publishing extra editions and bulletins in nearly every city. Leaders in the state whose political destinies had been so closely allied with those of Senator Cummins issued glowing statements of tribute.

Cummins, who had served in the United States senate continuously since 1908, was defeated for re-election in the Iowa primary last month by Smith W. Brookhart, the insurgent who had been ousted from the senate in favor of Daniel Steck, a democrat, following a recount of the ballots in the 1924 election.

Brookhart was swept into the nomination by a wave of resentment against congress for failing to provide legislative relief for the Iowa corn farmers. Although Cummins had worked in close harmony with the various agricultural committees, he was given a share of the blame for the failure of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill. This proved too great a political obstacle for him to overcome in his home state and in the primary his political career was ended.

Cummins returned to his home here only a few weeks ago after the adjournment of congress in Washington. He announced that he would go into retirement after more than 26 years of public life and write a book about

Victim of Bold Shotgun Murder in Fashionable Hotel

Here are two characteristic views of Bert Donaldson, chief investigator in the office of Solicitor General John Boykin, whose bullet-riddled body was found Friday afternoon in a hotel room to which he had been lured by gunman and shot to death. Donaldson was known as one of the most indefatigable criminal prosecutors in the country. Quick of action, tireless on the trail of the criminal and devoted wholeheartedly to his work, he often went for days without eating a real meal, sustaining his strength with milk and sandwiches or anything at hand, while he continued to press his case. At left he is shown using the telephone in an emergency case in his office in Fulton courthouse. At right he is shown snatching a hasty makeshift meal while examining records in a gaming raid.

MRS. EDWARD HALL RELEASED ON BAIL IN 'CHOIR MYSTERY'

New Jersey Judge Orders Release of Pastor's Widow on Grounds of Insufficient Evidence.

MRS. HALL DEPARTS ON MYSTERY TRIP

New Brunswick, N. J., July 30.—(AP)—Quitting her home through a back entrance, Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, accompanied by her attorney, Timothy N. Pfeiffer, was spirited away tonight to the Pennsylvania railroad station here where she boarded a train for New York city.

Reporters and crowds of curious persons waiting in front of the Hall home were unaware of her sudden departure.

Somerville, N. J., July 30.—

(AP)—Mrs. Edward Wheeler Hall, of New Brunswick, regained her liberty tonight in $15,000 bail after having spent 40 hours in Somerset county jail charged with the murder four years ago of her husband, church rector, and his alleged sweetheart, choir singer in his church.

The 49-year-old aristocratic matron was arrested late Wednesday night, after authorities said, a "mass of new evidence" pointing to her as the slayer of the rector of fashionable St. John's Episcopal church, in New Brunswick, and Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, choir singer, had been discovered in an investigation ordered by Governor Moore and state authorities.

She was released by order of Chief Justice Gummers, to whom defense attorneys appeared today at Point Pleasant.

Accompanied by two of her lawyers and Mrs. Edward Carpenter, her sister-in-law, of New Brunswick, and others, Mrs. Hall emerged from the main entrance of the jail at 7:25

Donaldson Paid With Life MANY THREATS HAD BEEN MADE AGAINST SLEUTH For Knowledge of Crime

Bert Donaldson was marked, a man condemned to death by a court which rarely ever fails to claim its victim and the full penalty. He "knew too much," and for that reason he died Thursday night.

Sprawled stiff in death, a great gaping hole in the back of his head, another, in the small of his back, Donaldson was found Friday afternoon on the floor of a room in the Georgian Terrace hotel.

This was the price he paid for his knowledge of affairs of the underworld, of confidence men, of gamblers and of all manner of criminals. Donaldson didn't know he was being lured to his death "Thursday night." It is probable that he never suspected that he was in the slightest immediate danger, for he went unarmed.

But Donaldson believed he was going to "bet his" money or later. They tried it before in Havana only last winter. A hundred threats had been made against his life. People who knew the man have been expecting to hear of his assassination since first he began his pursuit of members of the notorious "Floyd Woodward million-dollar bonus gang." But still he worked on.

City's Master Crime.
The murder of Bert Donaldson Thursday night was the boldest and most ruthless slaying Atlanta has ever known. Other crimes pale into insignificance when the facts of this carefully-laid killing are considered beside them.

There was no motive of robbery; there was no quarrel and flash of guns. Donaldson was shot down in cold blood with a shotgun in the hands of a man hidden in a clothes closet.

The job could not have been done by an Atlanta gunman authorities say. It was a piece of work worthy only of those who study murder as a cool business proposition, and who make no mistake that the victim dies. Besides it would have been foolhardy for anyone known in Atlanta to retaliate at the fashionable hotel for such a purpose. His arrest and death in the chair would have been a mine of information for anyone who knew the man. He was a dwarf-like figure, with a high forehead, a small nose, and a thin mustache. He was a man of few words, but his eyes were full of fire. He was a man of few words, but his eyes were full of fire.

Ballistics of Crime.
The murder is called the boldest ever recorded in the criminal annals of Atlanta because of these facts: The slayers picked one of Atlanta's most fashionable hotels for the scene of their crime and the slaying occurred at 10:30 o'clock—the quietest of the night.

RADIO OPERATOR ACCUSED IN CASE OF WOMAN PASTOR

Attorney for Mrs. Aimee McPherson Believes Kenneth Ormiston "Implicated in Kidnaping."

Los Angeles, Cal., July 30.—

(AP)—Roland R. Woolley, attorney for Mrs. Aimee Simple McPherson, evangelist returned today from Carmel, Cal. and issued a statement saying he believed Kenneth Ormiston, former radio operator at Mrs. McPherson's Anguiss temple here, "was implicated in the kidnaping" of Mrs. McPherson.

Woolley would not say if he had obtained any evidence to disprove the theory that Ormiston had spent several days in a cottage at Carmel with a woman while search was being made for the supposedly drowned evangelist at Santa Monica Beach.

Charles Palmer, of the district attorney's staff, reported to his office this afternoon that he had been unable to locate Mrs. McPherson in several days in a cottage at Carmel with a woman while search was being made for the supposedly drowned evangelist at Santa Monica Beach.

Finger print experts of the police department announced today that finger prints obtained in a cottage at Carmel so far examined could not be identified as those of Aimee Simple McPherson owing to their blurred condition.

FIVE MEN BURIED WHEN RAILROAD TUNNEL CAVES IN

Denver, Colo., July 30.—(AP)—Five men tonight were buried under 100 tons of loose rock in the western side of the Moffat railroad tunnel being bored under James Peak through the Continental Divide of the Rocky mountains west of there. Little hope is entertained for their recovery alive.

A sixth victim, Harrell Thompson, who was entangled from the mass of rock, is not expected to live. The five men buried by the cave-in were John Adams, shift boss; Patrick Gussoway, W. A. Parsons, Henry Ferguson and John Brock.

The accident occurred two miles within the tunnel when the roofing timbers gave way, trapping the men. Rescue workers attacked the mass of debris in the night hoping the trapped men may have escaped before crushed to death.

Imported Gunmen Murdered Sleuth, Declares Boykin

Cold-Blooded Assassination of Crime Investigator Result of Underworld Vendetta, Solicitor Believes—Offers $1,000 Reward for Apprehension of Killers.

TWO CHARGES OF BUCKSHOT FIRED IN BACK BROUGHT INSTANT DEATH

Scarred-Faced Gunman Sought as Leader of Band of Four Men Who Perpetrated Most Carefully Planned Crime in Annals of Atlanta.

Riddled by bullets believed to have been fired by imported gunmen as the culmination of a vendetta sworn by Atlanta's underworld, the body of Bert Donaldson, chief investigator in the office of Solicitor General John A. Boykin, Friday afternoon was found sprawled on the floor of a room in the Georgian Terrace hotel.

Death resulted from two charges of buckshot fired at close range from a shotgun after Donaldson had been lured to his death by four men headed by a scarred-faced gunman. One charge entered the base of the skull, tearing a part of the head away, and the second entered his back as he reeled and fell. Either charge was sufficient to cause death, officials said.

ANDREWS' DINNER TO LONDON GUESTS "ABSOLUTELY DRY"

London, July 30.—(AP)—The said old Ritz hotel, which shuns nocturnal as a rule, tonight was the scene of one of the most unusual formal dinners ever served in London as it was absolutely dry.

Brigadier General Lincoln C. Andrews, chief of the American prohibition enforcement service, was the host and his guests were the British inter-departmental executives with whom the American chief has recently drawn an agreement to hinder liquor smuggling into the United States.

The dinner was given in return for several dinners given the Americans. Among the guests were Sir Horace Hamilton, chairman of the board of customs and excise; Sir Charles Hipwood, of the board of trade; A. C. M. Burns, colonial secretary for the Bahamas who came to London especially to participate in the discussion with the Americans; Robert Van Sittart, chief of the American department of the foreign office, as well as other departmental chiefs with whom ? ? ?

Chicago Opens Pet Cemetery Next Tuesday

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)
Chicago, Ill., July 30.—Chicago's first formal animal funeral will be held Tuesday, when Michael, the shepherd collie that for 13 years was the constant companion of L. T. Wall, will be laid to rest in the Illinois Pet cemetery.

Michael died four months ago and was buried in the prairie, as the Illinois Pet cemetery had not then been opened. Tuesday he will be reburied in a concrete casket, especially made, and a memorial, fittingly inscribed, will mark the spot. An engraved certificate of his burial, signed and sealed, will be returned to his master. The Illinois Pet cemetery is what its name implies. An animal funeral may be conducted from $15 up to any amount, depending upon the casket and tombstone. A special hearse is part of the equipment and is large enough to accommodate the body of a pony.

St. Cloud, Fla., July 30.—(AP)—Reorganization of the Bank of St. Cloud with new financing of the institution was announced today by officials of the bank. HUNTER TESTIFIES AT WHITE TRIAL

When making a balance sheet on June 30, 1922, just prior to the offering of stock for sale by White Provision company, a charge against W. H. White, Jr., former president of the company, of $50,632.97 was found. J. Hunter, auditor of the company, testified Friday in Fulton superior court during the trial of White on embezzlement charges.

Mr. Hunter said he was not willing to show on the balance sheet the $50,632.97 charge against White except under the head of accounts receivable by others than customers.

Mr. White was not willing to have the charge carried this way, Mr. Hunter said.

White went to Mr. Hunter's home and stated that this charge represented money placed in his hands by the company for the purpose of buying control in the Miller Union Stock Yards. This was after the provision company had been advised by its counsel that it could not hold stock in the stockyard company, Mr. Hunter testified.

White Objected.

"At the end of 1924," Mr. Hunter said, "I declined to combine an item of $30,672.49 due by Mr. White and other officers with accounts receivable due by customers. I insisted that this was necessary to show this was due by others and that such an explanation was recognized as a means of stating funds due by officers and employees. White objected to this," Mr. Hunter continued.

Later a duplicate deposit ticket on the Citizens and Southern bank was presented to the auditor to show deposit of the amount of $30,672.49 of which $27,000 was the individual account of Mr. White with the explanation that this "closed off" the officers' account. On the strength of this ticket he noted on the balance sheet opposite the item "since paid," according to testimony by Mr. Hunter.

The company auditor was the last witness to be placed on the stand by the state on the fifth day of the White trial, which is slated to be one of the longest and hardest fought legal battles of the year.

Peel on Stand.

Colonel William Lawson Peel, a director of the White Provision company, was called to the stand by the state shortly before noon. His testimony was to the effect that he had no knowledge of withdrawals or expenditures of funds in speculation.

The state attempted to prove excessive feeding of stock by company employees under the direction of company officials and W. E. Trimble, for the past seven years plant superintendent of the provision company, was called to the stand. He testified that during his period of service no excessive feedings had been done except in the case of a large steer which was sold to a local hotel and feeding of some Christmas cattle. No extensive feedings had been done, according to his testimony.

The trial of White, charged with the embezzlement of $218,012.17 of funds of the provision company, was resumed Friday morning when William Hurek, secretary-treasurer of the company, recalled to the stand. He was the third witness to be placed on the stand during the trial.

State's Contentions.

The state contends that White made withdrawals of $682,610.29 during the years from 1911 to 1925 against his gross salary of $163,500; that the packing house president manipulated his accounts to balance his personal indebtedness and withdrawals; that company funds were used by White in speculation and dealing in futures on margin.

The defense contends that the expenditure of funds in most cases was authorized by the board of directors; that White's alleged overdrafts or withdrawals were made by him in the interest of building and developing the company and that White had created a trust fund to take care of his indebtedness to the company.

S. T. Golightly, head bookkeeper of White Provision company, testified that he refused to comply with a request that a departmental charge of $34,000 be made against the White Provision company to cover losses he said his superior told him had occurred in the White Feeding company.

Did Not Make Entry.

"Mr. White told me that this was a loss incurred by the White Provision company and that it should be placed upon the White Provision company," he asserted. "I asked him if he had instructions or authority from the directors to charge this loss to the provision company. He said: 'No. I don't need them in this case. I'll have you understand that this is a legitimate charge," Mr. Golightly asserted.

The entry was not made by me as requested by Mr. White, but it was made by another employee," he added.

In the matter of the check of $30,672.49, Mr. Conyers brought out that it had been authorized by voucher and drawn, signed, indorsed and deposited without Mr. White taking any part in the transaction. W. L. Newborn, vice president, signed the check and E. S. Papa indorsed it for deposit, it was shown.

LIFE BOAT FLEET FOR STUNT FLIER AT LAKEWOOD PARK

Lakewood's fleet of rowboats will be impressed into volunteer life saving service at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon to supplement the power boat in effecting a rescue of Jimmy Callan, dare-devil stunt flier, after his leap into the lake from an airplane. Volunteers will be enlisted to man the boats.

The leap is to be the climax to a demonstration of airplane tricks staged by instructors of the McMullen school of aviation for its students and for the regular Sunday afternoon concert audience at Lakewood park.

The concert will begin at 3:30 o'clock, including a band program selected from nearly 900 requests made by last Sunday's audience, with vocal selections by Miss Jessie Reese Calvert, soprano, and Joe Bernie, veteran vaudeville singer and composer.

WOMAN MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT GOES SECOND CLASS

London, July 30.—(AP)—The first woman member of parliament ever to cross the Atlantic second class will be Miss Ellen Wilkinson, laborite. She will sail for the United States tomorrow with the British mines delegation, which will appeal for funds to aid the wives and children of the striking miners. She is going as head of the women's relief fund.

After meeting the officials of the American Federation of Labor at Washington, the delegates will carry their appeal through the mining district of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Illinois and Ohio.

Miss Wilkinson's quarters on the Berengaria will be in strange contrast to those of Lady Astor, who left these shores only the other day, also for America. Lady Astor, accompanied by her children and maids, had an upper-deck suite, on one of the finest liners, and when she sailed there were banks of flowers which filled half of one of her cabins.

GEORGIA CASUALTY PAYS USUAL DIVIDEND

W. E. Small, president of the Georgia Casualty company, was principal speaker at a monthly meeting of the board of directors held recently, at which time the usual semi-annual dividend of 6 per cent was declared and paid.

In his review of the operations of the company for the past six months, Mr. Small stated that compensation was the only line of business that has not proven satisfactory, but the Georgia Casualty company was not alone in that respect, for a great many companies were having the same experience in this line.

HARRIS RECOVERING FROM BRIEF ILLNESS

Senator William J. Harris, who has been ill in Barnesville at the home of his sister, Mrs. John J. Quinn, is recovering and will soon be able to return to his office in Atlanta.

Mrs. Della H. Garrett, of Barnesville, sister of Senator W. J. Harris, spent Thursday in Atlanta.

CHIPP'S WIDOW ATTACKS NORRIS

Fort Worth, Texas, July 30.—(AP) Indictment of Rev. Dr. J. Frank Norris for the slaying of D. Elliott Chipp, lumberman, "is the first act of vindictive toward by dead husband," Mrs. D. E. Chipp, divorced wife of the lumberman, declared in a statement today. Mrs. Chipp has retained special prosecutors to aid the state in the trial of Dr. Norris.

"This indictment establishes the fact that Mr. Chipp was unarmed and was killed without opportunity to defend himself," Mrs. Chipp declared.

The firm of McLean, Scott and Sayers, employed by Mrs. Chipp, in a statement today declared that "the indictment wholly refutes the Rev. Dr. Norris' claim to justification," and added:

"The scene of the homicide will be faithfully portrayed to the jury just as it was when the killing occurred."

Marvin B. Simpson, chief of counsel for Dr. Norris, yesterday issued a statement in which he said that the "public has already rendered its verdict of acquittal and exoneration" of his client.

WILLIS LEAVES CITY FOR TRIP TO EUROPE

Bound for New York, where he will embark on the Aquitania for a five weeks' vacation trip to Europe, G. F. Willis, Atlanta capitalist who developed and built the model suburban city of Avondale Estates, left Atlanta Friday afternoon.

This, Mr. Willis' first trip in two years that takes him more than a day's journey from Atlanta, is a vacation after the unremitting labor of building a modern, scientifically planned city, as is Avondale Estates, for the needs of shopping, service, recreation, and healthful, well-rounded existence for an ultimate population of 15,000 people.

Mr. Willis kept diligently at the task of city building from the first, until recent record sales set to more than $1,250,000 the total of sales since the property was placed before the public and established Avondale Estates as no longer a venture but an assured success. Business observers have agreed that the development planned and fostered by Mr. Willis is a success, in view of numerous resales recorded at substantial profits to the original investors, with a modern business community of prosperous stores in all lines, with beautiful homes, hundreds of residents, and 14 miles of improved and paved street frontage in sight.

And so Mr. Willis is taking his first real vacation, a five weeks' trip to Europe, from which he expects to return September 5. Mrs. Willis and their sons will spend the remainder of the summer in their summer home in the mountains of North Carolina.

CHILD BADLY HURT IN FALL OFF FENCE

Jack Hornsby, age 2, of 35 Vanira street, is in Grady hospital in a critical condition after a fall from a fence near his home Friday afternoon. The child was at play and when he fell, it is said, his head struck a concrete sidewalk.

Physicians fear his skull is fractured.

SLAYER OF PRINCE IS HELD GUILTY

Vienna, July 30.—(AP)—The last act in the tragedy which caused the death of Prince Cyril Vladimirovich Orloff and the suicide of Baroness Klinger two months ago, was played in the criminal court today when all the proceedings against Baron Klinger, holding him responsible for the death of the prince, were abandoned.

The court ruled there was no evidence to prove that the baron fired before Prince Orloff when they exchanged shots in a forest near the baron's estate at Raab early in June. The baron was wounded in the chest, while his gun shattered the prince's arm. Two weeks later Orloff died from pneumonia.

Baroness Klinger, to whom Prince Orloff had been paying much attention, took her own life when she learned of the shooting. Because of the prominence of these concerned the affair caused a sensation in Austrian society circles.

Who uses the Kelvinator

The Oldest Domestic Electric Refrigeration

In Atlanta the answer is ~

NOT ONLY in the finest residential sections, the show-places of the city, but also in the homes of hundreds of people of moderate income, the Kelvinator has been selected as the outstanding development in the field of

Electric Refrigeration

The Kelvinator way of electric refrigeration means greater efficiency at less expense. Facts prove it.

The Kelvinator will keep foods sweet for a week, will give a sharp, frosty crispness to garden produce, will furnish ice for table use—will make life more worth the living in endless ways. Hundreds in Atlanta alone already know it.

Twelve years ago the Kelvinator was the pioneer in the field of electric refrigeration. Its leadership remains unchallenged today.

Vibrationless beyond belief

The Buick Motor Company today presents the 1927 Buick, with an engine, vibrationless beyond belief.

This achievement, we earnestly believe, will rank as one of the most important in all motor car history.

Our engineers, working in conjunction with the engineering staffs of General Motors Research Laboratories and General Motors Proving Ground have divorced the annoyance of vibration to a point never before attained.

They have given Buick motor cars a new luxury of quietness at every speed, exceptional among all cars, no matter what their price.

Never in all the twenty-two years of Buick success has there been offered such convincing proof of engineering and manufacturing leadership.

Buick offers you today a brilliant example of the quality of Buick craftsmanship—

Confident that acquaintance with its performance and value will fix in mind the conviction that money can buy nothing finer—

Certain that you will discover in this great new car, further evidence of the deep meaning in the long-standing Buick pledge: "When Better Automobiles are Built, Buick Will Build Them."

Four Vital Engine Improvements

To produce the silent power-flow in the 1927 Buick, Buick engineers have made four fundamental improvements in the structure of the famous Buick Six-Cylinder Valve-in-Head engine. These include a Counter-Poised Crankshaft, a Torsion Balancer; new light-weight pistons; and then a Completely Cushioned Engine, insulated and isolated by rubber mountings, fore and aft, from all metallic contact with the chassis.

Buick Also Introduces The Vacuum-Cleaned Crankcase

Another revolutionary improvement in the 1927 Buick is the vacuum-cleaned crankcase. Crankcase moisture, the vicious foe of engine efficiency, is now drawn out of the crankcase before it has an opportunity to do harm. The crankcase is cleaned and kept free of dilution by the Buick Vacuum Ventilator, a new device, operated by the air flow; positive and certain in action, and without a single moving part. The oil in the crankcase of the 1927 Buick need be changed only four times a year!

GREATEST BUICK EVER BUILT 1927

Other vital improvements

And Thermostatic Control of Cooling

Buick performance is now made more certain, more pleasant and more economical by thermostatic control in the cooling system. Water circulation is halted and the heat held in the engine, until the proper operating temperature is reached. Thermostatic Control also assists the Vacuum Ventilator in its work, by reducing the use of the choke.

Other Refinements To Eliminate Noise

Gear noise is removed by Buick's new giant-tooth transmission. This transmission is quiet in all of its speeds. Further quietness has been obtained by an entirely new muffler design. This minimizes exhaust noise, with no power loss.

Balanced Wheels for Smoother, Safer Driving

And in this remarkable new car, Buick introduces balanced wheels, another contribution to easier and safer driving.

The Buick chassis now offers a perfection of performance long looked-for—but never before found in any motor car.

Millions saved by volume production have been used to develop Buick quality to the point where nothing could be finer.

Luxurious New Bodies by Fisher

The princely beauty of the new Fisher Bodies is in thorough keeping with the unusual and incomparable performance standards now attained.

Rich Coronation Colors in Duco dress these cars in striking custom finishes. Refinements of profile with low-gravity body construction impart an air of fleetness, grace and high quality. And, in the creation and selection of the upholsterings and interiorware, artistic taste is unmistakably reflected.

And Here is the Most Remarkable Fact About This Remarkable Motor Car—Value!

This greatest of all Buicks is the greatest of all Buick values. Buick volume has permitted engineering research and development on a scale far beyond the reach of most manufacturers.

Constant improvement has leveled one price barrier after another, until now you are offered, in this new Buick, a car as fine as money can buy, at the price of cars of very ordinary quality.

This car will convince you, as no other car can, that money can purchase nothing finer—no matter how much you may be able to spend!

ARRESTED IN BROOKLYN RAIDS

Norfolk, Va., July 30.—(AP)—More than 100 policemen and federal narcotics agents shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon started serving 58 warrants which had been issued for the arrest of drugists and alleged dope peddlers on charges of having illegally sold cocaine and other habit-forming drugs. The warrants were issued as a result of investigations which have been in progress in Norfolk by federal agents for more than two months, according to one of the officials in charge.

A mass of evidence was collected and the raids and arrests today arranged on a scale more impressive and elaborate than has heretofore been attempted in this section, he said.

Led by Colonel L. G. Nutt, head of the federal narcotics division, and Dr. B. B. Bates, divisional head, together with Chief of Police S. W. Ironmonger and Colonel C. B. Borden, the small army of raiders gathered at the Twelfth Street armory shortly after 3 o'clock. Command was taken by the federal agents who immediately divided the city into sections of guards, a number of city police being assigned to federal officers.

The men left the armory at a given signal in taxis and began the raids. Armed with warrants for arrest of the drugists and alleged dope peddlers the men arranged the attack so that all parties would strike at approximately the same time.

KNOWLEDGE OF CRIME COSTS SLEUTH LIFE

ago he was one of the slickest crackmen in the United States. He quit after he narrowly escaped the chair in Ohio for the slaying of a policeman. He was convicted and sentenced to death. Two regiments had cracked a safe, and in their escape, shot down the policeman. So smooth was the job and so much like a "Donaldson job" that he was arrested and, with other circumstantial evidence, he came within the shadow of the chair. The other protested to the last that Donaldson was innocent, that he had not been in the city, and the doubt which this testimony created resulted in a new trial and exoneration for Donaldson. He has "gone straight" since then. He married and settled down in Atlanta, entering upon a career of prison reform.

Donaldson knew most of the men mixed up in the Woodward operations. Many of them were his associates in other days. He knew Gerald Chapman; at one time he operated with "Dutch" Anderson and other crooks equally as famous. He knew the underworld of every big city—Chicago, New York, Los Angeles—and he penetrated them fearlessly and with disastrous results to many a "con man" and fugitive.

Bert Donaldson knew these underworlds and the broods they mothered too well. They knew it and they "got him."

Pleasure was one of the most romantic and interesting of any criminal ever to come from the underworld into a life of reform and religious activity. There are many chapters in the story of his life that will never be written, but there is no doubting that he was one of the most picturesque characters of his type in the last quarter of a century.

A small locked inside of which was the picture of a beautiful brunette woman holding in her arms a small poodle dog led J. A. Doyle, Rochester, N. Y., detective, to apprehend the man. He was a detective of the blower who robbed Rochester's leading wholesale jewelry store at an hour when the city's streets were filled with fashionable theatergoers returning to their homes.

This member of the yeggman crew was none other than Bert Donaldson, who was captured in Milwaukee, Wis., about 15 years ago, and upon an agreement with officers, he entered a plea of guilty to robbing a post-office in this section, he said.

At this juncture in the story, after Bert had been brought to Atlanta, a devout and Christian life was begun, and continued until the end Thursday night when he was shot to death.

Just prior to his penitentiary sentence or during his term in prison, Donaldson was converted, and upon completion of his sentence was named a member of the Payne Memorial church of Atlanta and was active in Christian circles. Only last Wednesday, with a band of Gideons, he had charge of the prayer service at the Baptist Tabernacle and delivered the principal address, his subject being "Victorious Life."

His was the life of a "man who came back." Donaldson's confederates in the $300,000 gem robbery in Rochester, N. Y., were "Dutch" Anderson, one of the most notorious criminals of the century, Jimmie Cordano and Joe Hill.

On the night of the robbery, these four men went to the outer gate of the jewelry store, and with their tools, picked the lock and gained entrance to the store. Three safes in the building were blown open and $300,000 in uncut gems taken.

When detectives investigated the small locked found near the large safe, they found a note, a note and a suit case containing a similar picture as that contained in the locked safe found by detectives. It was learned that the woman was the wife of Donaldson and that their home was in Toledo, Ohio. Donaldson's arrest followed.

He was "picked up" by a detective as he stood in the postoffice corridor waiting for "Dutch" Anderson. Anderson and Donaldson were registered at one of the most fashionable hotels in the city, but Anderson managed to steer clear of the police there and was not arrested until three months later in Bay City, Mich.

Donaldson would have ended his life. One charge entered the head just behind the left ear and another tore a gaping hole in the small of his back.

The fatal shots were fired from the closet door of the room as Donaldson passed from one side of the room to another. An arm chair was discovered in the closet, in which the murderer sat waiting, his gun ready, until Donaldson came within close range. An electric light globe in the closet, designed to light when the door opened, had been removed from its socket.

MURDER COMMITTED THURSDAY NIGHT. The murder is believed to have been committed Thursday night about 9:30 o'clock. It was at this time that three women guests on the floor on one side of the room of the slaying is located, declared that they heard two shots.

The elevator boy heard them, too, he said, but because such noises caused by slamming doors are often heard, no importance was attached to the incident. The boy said that the house detective was not notified of the disturbance.

Donaldson received a telephone call at his home Thursday night about 8:30 o'clock, his wife said. She heard her husband say in conversation with the caller:

"Oh, you're in the same room, are you?"

And then after a pause:

"I'll be right up."

He left the house then. INVESTIGATOR SEEN WITH STRANGER. The elevator boy, who told of hearing the shots, testified that he had seen Donaldson with a man about six feet in height, weighing about 180 pounds, during the night. The boy said Donaldson and this man went up and down in his elevator several times.

About 10 minutes before the shooting was heard, the boy said, Donaldson and this man got off the elevator on the third floor and walked in the direction in which the body was found. This man was seen talking with two

NEGRO MAID DISCOVERS BODY.

A negro maid was the first to discover Donaldson's body. She notified the manager, who in turn summoned police. Donaldson's body was lying on the floor, his head resting under the corner of the bed. He was fully clothed. Seven hundred dollars in cash in his wallet had not been disturbed. To all appearances, his pockets had not been touched.

Neither gun nor the two shells which held the buckshot were found. Two or three paper shells were found on the floor, however.

The room in which Donaldson was slain was registered as being occupied by "W. B. Sands, of Macon, Georgia."

NO SUCH MAN KNOWN IN MACON. Macon officers know of no one by the name of W. B. Sands, Associated Press dispatches from that city said. No person by that name is listed in the city directory. A telephone directory of Macon, it was added. Officers of that city said that the man evidently gave a fictitious name.

It is believed that the man with whom Donaldson was last seen, and the "strangers" disappeared from the hotel about 11 o'clock. The elevator boy said that he took them down about 11 o'clock and that he did not see them return.

Just how it was possible for Donaldson to have been lured to a room in the hotel and two loads of buckshot fired into his body without attracting attention of those occupying the hotel, and nearby, or the house detective or others connected with the hostelry, is a problem which the city general himself is undertaking to solve with the aid of the entire city detective force headed by Captain Holcomb, Lieutenant T. O. Sturdivant and Lieutenant W. H. Andrews.

Donaldson's death occurred shortly after 9 o'clock, in the opinion of Southern Bell, negro elevator boy who saw him make three or four trips up and down the elevator with another man just before the two shots were fired.

"The man who was with him was about 6 feet tall, and probably weighed around 185 pounds, the left side of his face being drawn or sunken in," the negro elevator operator told the solicitor general.

Thought Doors Slammed. When Bert and this man would go downstairs they would leave the hotel by way of the entrance to Ponce de Leon avenue, and return the same way. A few minutes after the man had made their last trip, the negro elevator boy and Mrs. Aurelian Coolidge, who occupies a suite on the fifth floor, heard the report of the shotgun being fired. Mrs. Coolidge, the negro says, became frightened and said: "That sounds like someone shooting." She was afraid to go to her apartment.

Afterward, Mrs. R. A. Johnson and Mrs. Howard McCall, other guests of the hotel, also reported hearing the shooting. The latter decided they were made by slamming doors.

That Donaldson's death was the culmination of a well-laid plot was the opinion of Solicitor General Boykin and detectives investigating the case.

Shot From Closet. He was lured into the room by a man he thought was his friend, and as he passed beyond a closet door, which was closed, the first load striking the investigator on the left ear, tearing a large hole in his head, and he was shot again as he fell—in the small of the back," officers stated.

Police and detectives at first attached importance to the fact that Donaldson's automobile could not be found, but later it was discovered parked on a side street near the hotel.

Recently in Chicago. On his recent trip to Chicago, Ill., Donaldson obtained valuable clues showing that Jack Wilson has been in communication with his mother, and that she was writing to him. Written evidence of this interchange of mail between the alleged bandit and murderer and his mother is reported to have been taken from the pockets of Donaldson by Captain Holcomb.

"Donaldson evidently" was given a help by crooks in tracing Jack Wilson, these crooks doing it for the purpose of gaining his confidence to enable them to lay such an elaborate plan for ending his life in order that they might operate here again," those close to the solicitor general asserted.

Donaldson was summoned from his home, 115 West Cain street, during the downpour of rain about 8:30 o'clock Thursday night. Mrs. Donaldson said this was the last that she saw of her husband.

Appeared Worried. The detectives were also told by Mrs. Donaldson that her husband received a long-distance telephone call from Chicago Wednesday night and that he seemed deeply worried after the conversation.

This information was gained from Mrs. Donaldson by detectives who were searching for her husband before it was known that he had been murdered. This search was begun at request of Solicitor General Boykin, who became uneasy when Donaldson failed to report either by telephone or in person Friday morning.

Captain Holcomb, acting police chief, had just posted a written note at Solicitor Boykin's request, to be read to all members of the three watches, directing them to carefully look for Donaldson and have him communicate with Solicitor Boykin and also with his wife, when the telephone call was received from the hotel.

Search for Weapon. A long strip of black cloth, bearing the prints of a shotgun, was found in the room in which the slaying was staged. Solicitor Boykin expressed belief that the weapon was snuggled into the hotel in this cloth, but could not account for the gun's being taken out uncovered without being noticed by someone. A determined search is being made of the entire building for the weapon.

A woman's tan glove found on the shelf in the closet where the gunman sat was taken in charge by detectives and investigators in the solicitor's office. While they believe this was probably left there by accident some time before the murder, they are leaving nothing undone in their search for clues.

Close Muffled Sound. Donaldson's slayer was stationed in the closet during the time the investigator was last seen to go down on the elevator with the "tall man in the gray suit" and the time they returned to the room. Windows of the room open on Peachtree street. Donaldson was on this side of the room, where two single beds and a bureau are situated. The telephone is on the wall directly opposite. Donaldson either walked across the room to use the telephone or to follow this man out of the door which opens into the hall.

As he passed, the closet door was opened and the shots were fired. Solicitor Boykin believes the shots were fired from the closet to muffle the sound. Both windows in the room were closed when the officers arrived Friday afternoon.

Four Men Involved. Information gained by those prosecuting the investigation would indicate that there were at least four parties directly concerned with the murder of Donaldson. Three of these, according to the elevator boy, made it a practice to get off on the fourth floor—one above where the murder was committed. One of these was a negro man who had been

SUIT ATTACKS SALE OF KANSAS CITY STAR

Kansas City, July 30.—(AP)—Suit to set aside the sale of the Kansas City Star to Irvin Kirkwood and associates, was filed here today by W. S. Dickey, editor and publisher of the Kansas City Journal-Post and one of the unsuccessful bidders for The Star property. Mr. Dickey asked that he be declared the successful bidder or that a new sale be held under direction of the court.

Mr. Dickey, who recently sold his power plant on the Enoree river to the Broad River Power company, claims that the increased use of water during the last few years made it necessary to obtain outside assistance from a power plant at Van Patton Shoals. During the drought last summer the city of Greenville used so much water from Enoree river that he was compelled to secure steam-generated power to fill his contracts, Mr. Groce claims.

Mr. Groce, who conferred with W. C. Beacham, chairman of the city water commission, with Mayor Richard P. Watson and others, says that all lower land owners on a stream are entitled to all water in that stream, and that by removing such a large quantity of water from Enoree river the city of Greenville interfered with the operation of his plant by lowering the supply of water in the river.

Mr. Groce said he had received pay for water taken from the river in past years but that he had not received anything from the city of Greenville since 1915. He said that last year because of the growth of Greenville, and the drought, as much as 60,000,000 gallons of water was taken from the river in a month's time and that "it did not leave enough for the power plant at Van Patton Shoals to function properly."

Nothing definite was done at the conference today, Mr. Groce saying that he had been asked to take up the matter with E. M. Blithe, attorney for the city of Greenville.

Sandersville Woman Denies She Is Mother Of Tots Left in Macon. Macon, Ga., July 30.—(AP)—"I am not my babies' mother," the terse comment of Mrs. Eva Salter, 24, in regard to the blue-eyed twins of four months that were abandoned here July 8 by two young women. Left in a first street boarding house, the baby boys were taken to Macon hospital, where they are getting along well.

Mrs. Salter, daughter of a Sandersville family, was arrested at her home there late yesterday and brought here and placed in Bibb county jail. The charge against her is leaving two babies as probable charity charges on Bibb county.

Although denying the babies as her offspring, Mrs. Salter has nothing to say as to whether she was one of the two women who brought the twins here and left them a few minutes after renting a room in the boarding house. She declined to answer questions of the officers.

The officers learned that efforts were being made by Sandersville parties to secure freedom of the young woman on bond, and the amount was fixed at $1,500.

It is understood that search for the second woman in the case so far has proven fruitless.

W. W. MUNDY TO SPEAK AT SUMMERVILLE TODAY. Summerville, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Senator W. W. Mundy, of Cedartown, candidate for congress from the seventh district, will address the voters of Chatham county at the courthouse here next Saturday afternoon, July 31, at 4 o'clock.

Judge M. C. Tarver, of Dalton, who is opposing Senator Mundy, spoke to a large audience at Menlo Thursday.

APARTMENT HOUSE OWNER IS SUED FOR HEART BALM

West Palm Beach, Fla., July 29.—(AP)—Samuel E. Luker, owner of 90 apartment houses in the loop district of Chicago and proprietor of the Lake House apartment in West Palm Beach, is defendant in a $50,000 alienation of affection suit filed Friday afternoon by R. C. Reynolds, formerly his tenant in Chicago.

Although no declaration was filed in the case, attaches of the firm of Roebuck & Roebuck, counsel for the plaintiff, said their client has the names of five witnesses who was alleged to have found the defendant with Reynolds' wife at her apartment last January.

The suit was first entered in Chicago but all efforts to effect service of a summons on the defendant were unavailing. Learning that Zuker was in West Palm Beach, Reynolds followed him, arriving Thursday night.

After locating Zuker he went to his attorneys here and entered the suit. During the few months which preceded Mrs. Luker's estrangement she had exhibited tastes for finery far beyond his means, the complainant said, claiming that he had bought her a new dress and a new hat, and in a style better than she had ever been accustomed to. He claims that his wife's infidelity was caused by lavish offers from Zuker.

GREENVILLE ASKED TO PAY FOR WATER

Greenville, S. C., July 30.—(AP)—The city of Greenville must pay for the water used from Enoree river during the past seven years, according to A. B. Groce, former owner of the Enoree Power company, who was here today for a conference with city officials.

Mr. Groce, who recently sold his power plant on the Enoree river to the Broad River Power company, claims that the increased use of water during the last few years made it necessary to obtain outside assistance from a power plant at Van Patton Shoals. During the drought last summer the city of Greenville used so much water from Enoree river that he was compelled to secure steam-generated power to fill his contracts, Mr. Groce claims.

Mr. Groce, who conferred with W. C. Beacham, chairman of the city water commission, with Mayor Richard P. Watson and others, says that all lower land owners on a stream are entitled to all water in that stream, and that by removing such a large quantity of water from Enoree river the city of Greenville interfered with the operation of his plant by lowering the supply of water in the river.

Mr. Groce said he had received pay for water taken from the river in past years but that he had not received anything from the city of Greenville since 1915. He said that last year because of the growth of Greenville, and the drought, as much as 60,000,000 gallons of water was taken from the river in a month's time and that "it did not leave enough for the power plant at Van Patton Shoals to function properly."

Nothing definite was done at the conference today, Mr. Groce saying that he had been asked to take up the matter with E. M. Blithe, attorney for the city of Greenville.

Sandersville Woman Denies She Is Mother Of Tots Left in Macon. Macon, Ga., July 30.—(AP)—"I am not my babies' mother," the terse comment of Mrs. Eva Salter, 24, in regard to the blue-eyed twins of four months that were abandoned here July 8 by two young women. Left in a first street boarding house, the baby boys were taken to Macon hospital, where they are getting along well.

Mrs. Salter, daughter of a Sandersville family, was arrested at her home there late yesterday and brought here and placed in Bibb county jail. The charge against her is leaving two babies as probable charity charges on Bibb county.

Although denying the babies as her offspring, Mrs. Salter has nothing to say as to whether she was one of the two women who brought the twins here and left them a few minutes after renting a room in the boarding house. She declined to answer questions of the officers.

The officers learned that efforts were being made by Sandersville parties to secure freedom of the young woman on bond, and the amount was fixed at $1,500.

It is understood that search for the second woman in the case so far has proven fruitless.

W. W. MUNDY TO SPEAK AT SUMMERVILLE TODAY. Summerville, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Senator W. W. Mundy, of Cedartown, candidate for congress from the seventh district, will address the voters of Chatham county at the courthouse here next Saturday afternoon, July 31, at 4 o'clock.

Judge M. C. Tarver, of Dalton, who is opposing Senator Mundy, spoke to a large audience at Menlo Thursday.

COOLIDGE DENIES DEBT NEGOTIATION BY TREASURY HEAD

Paul Smith's, N. Y., July 30.—(AP)—Secretary Mellon, of the treasury department has not gone to Europe on any government business, it was said officially today at the executive offices of the summer white house.

Answering in the negative questions as to whether Mr. Mellon might enter into foreign debt funding negotiations abroad, officials said in behalf of President Coolidge that the secretary has no authority to conduct any such negotiations. Although he would possess such authority as chairman of the American debt funding commission, it was added, his powers in that respect have been largely exhausted under the law, except for two or three small items involving amounts owed by Greece and other nations whose obligations have not been funded.

The commission was entrusted with negotiating settlements of the foreign war-time debts, it was pointed out, and when it reported an agreement and this was accepted by congress its authority in the matter ceased.

Mr. Mellon, it was added, merely has gone abroad to enjoy a vacation with his son, and to visit his daughter in Rome.

Cracker Crackers Ought to Be Here Friday

Volunteers Score One Run in Eighth To Win Close Tilt

Four Pitchers Used By Clubs in Hard Battle—Nashville Takes Early Lead But Cracker Ties Count With Rally.

What was it someone said about "rain, beautiful rain?" Whatever it was, it wasn't true, so there. Again on Friday the storm beat a tattoo on the roof of the grandstand at Spiller field and again the Cracker and their visitors were forced to hunt shelter but this time the arbiters waited the elements and the game was recalled after an hour's wait and the Cracker beaten by the Volunteers, 3 and 2.

Now when it rains out the game before it is started or when the storm halts the game for good it is bearable but when the elements delay the battle with the score tied and then the visitors come back after their rest and trounce the locals that is something else.

But then, it was a good game of baseball despite the outcome and the wait of nearly one hour while the cloudburst burst and the corps of negroes attempted to sweep the paths clear of water in preparation of the resumption of play.

Caveat Holds Vols.
Tillar, Cracker, the lanky portlander, allowed the visitors but four hits in eight innings and Ruel, local, followed Caveat to the box in the ninth after Ruel Murphy had been sent into bat for "Pug," held the Tennessee hillless in the final frame.

The Cracker fared but little better off the delivery of Dumovich and Morris, the former giving up but one single in three innings and Morris cutting the Cracker down with four more in the balance of the game.

Dumovich, the Polish, Russian, Norwegian or whatever gentleman, succeeded in keeping the locals from tapping the apple but he experienced some difficulty in finding the plate and after filling the bases with Cracker on free passes in the fourth the man with the unspinnable man was hauled out and replaced by Morris.

All of the Cracker hits went to three men, Durocher and Haas handling down a brace apiece and Uchil Wilbur chalking up the other. Haas and Durocher both have a double to their credit.

Gilbert Opens.
The Cracker runs came in the sixth. Gilbert opened the inning by accepting a pass to the initial station and after going to second on a wild pitch he was sent across the plate when Haas doubled to deep center. Johnny Brock then laid down a sacrifice bunt to advance Haas to third and the "Mile" scored when Durocher also sacrificed. Tillar, then whiffed to retire the side.

But there it stayed as far as the Cracker were concerned.

In the seventh Good left off with a single to center and Niehoff, Niehoff in position to score when the fly ball route in rapid succession and Wilbur's single went for naught.

Again in the eighth the locals were in position to score when the fly ball route in rapid succession and Wilbur's single went for naught.

"SGT." MURPHY TO RECEIVE MARINE DECORATION TODAY

MORRIS OF NASHVILLE ALSO GETS MEDAL

Today will be "Marine Day" at Spiller field when Captain J. M. Swinerton, of the United States marine corps, will decorate Rod Murphy, of the Cracker, and big Ed Morris, of the Vols, with medals for their service with the marines during the war.

Robert O. D. Murphy was captain of the Yanks' Pacific Coast Coast league when this country entered the war and was considered one of the best players in the league. He was sold to the Boston Red Sox at the close of the 1917 season, but the call of Uncle Sam was stronger than the call of the big leagues, so he went to Mare Island instead of Fenway park.

TILDEN ENTERS SEMI-FINALS OF NET MEET

New York, July 30.—(AP)—William T. Tilden, of Philadelphia, national champion, advanced to the semi-final round in the metropolitan grass courts tennis championship by defeating Lennox E. Williams, of Chicago, 6-4, 5-7, 6-2.

Williams came from behind to take the second set after the champion had assumed a lead of 3-0 and 5-4, breaking through with a sizzling placement from the back court. The champion was unflinching at the net and was netting the ball frequently off his forehead.

In the final set he rallied with brilliant serving and driving to take complete command from the start, breaking through the service in the fourth and eighth games. William M. Johnston, of California, Tilden's outstanding rival for national honors, watched the contest from a seat in the stands.

CHAD'S ADVANCE.
Playing the most impressive tennis he has displayed since his return from Europe Vincent Richards, ranking No. 2 player, won his quarter final match against A. H. Chapin, Jr., of Springfield, Mass., 6-2, 6-2.

Chapin with an early season triumph over Tilden to his credit, was overwhelmed by the dazzling volleys and smashes of Richards.

Battle To Be Staged At Cracker Stadium

By Promoter Lotz

Atlanta Promoter Announces Signing of Battlers After Many Months of Work — Boston Fighter Gets Long-Awaited Chance at Georgia Negro.

Billy Lotz, who holds the signatures of Tiger Flowers, world's middle-weight champion, and Battling McCreary, the husky fighter from Solly Snyder's Boston stable, finally closed arrangements for a 10-round bout between the two at Spiller park on next Friday night.

Lotz's unremitting search for a site which started when a date at the auditorium was found taken resulted successfully late Friday and the bout was declared on.

Arrival of the Deacon from California accompanied by his manager, Wally Miller, brought the site-hunting to a climax. Flowers is anxious to fight before an Atlanta crowd before he goes to New York to defend his title in a return match with Harry Greb, and he made concessions in guarantees to Lotz that cleared the way for securing the Cracker ball park.

Trailing Flowers.
McCreary has been trailing Flowers for a bout for six months, and will leave Boston at once for Atlanta to start training.

Lotz is rounding up a strong preliminary card with assistance of Miller, and announcement of the added attractions is expected Sunday.

This will be the first outdoor show of the season, and the first appearance of Flowers here since he won the title from Harry Greb in New York.

MISS COLLETT WINS GRISWOLD GOLF TROPHY

Eastern Point, Conn., July 30.—(AP) In a thrilling finish Glenna Collett, of Providence, R. I., today came out of the gallery, turned around and won the eighth annual women's invitation golf tournament of the Shennecossett Country club, by defeating Maureen Orcutt, of Englewood, N. J., one up.

It was Miss Collett's fifth victory in the event, but never before has she been called on for such spectacular golf as Miss Orcutt forced her to play today. The national champion shot the 6,512 yard links in 82, one over women's par, while her 18-year-old opponent, who was medalist in the qualifying round with 82, today took 83.

During the first half, Miss Collett found her game just as Miss Orcutt began to weaken, and to the amazement of the gallery, turned around and won the eighth annual women's invitation golf tournament of the Shennecossett Country club, by defeating Maureen Orcutt, of Englewood, N. J., one up.

At the same time, Miss Orcutt slipped with all her clubs, found many traps, and after six holes, getting two birdies and four pars.

Other Atlantans Fall in Initial Rounds; Crenshaw Beats Black

Birdie Three on Thirteenth by Alabamian Brings Defeat To Black After Crenshaw Trails For Nine; Cook Wins Twice in Fourth Flight.

Columbus, Ga., July 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—The break of day found Sol smiling abundantly upon the inundated course of the local Country club, and, incidentally, a horde of golfers ready to sail in the first round of the local club's invitation tournament.

The conclusion of today's activity found Jack Crenshaw, of Montgomery; R. M. Hitch, of Savannah; Fred Minnich, of Atlanta, and Lem Hill, local niblicker, paired for the semi-final rounds tomorrow morning. Crenshaw and Hitch tee out at 9:40 o'clock and will be followed five minutes later by Lem Hill and Minnich. In a grueling match—the feature of the afternoon play—Jack Crenshaw, Montgomery ace, eliminated Dave Black, low medalist, of Atlanta, 6 and 3. After trailing Black on the first nine holes by one stroke, the Alabamian made a birdie three on the thirteenth, which carried him to victory. The cards:

Crenshaw out 656 644 443-42
Crenshaw in 454 645 543-41
Black out 645 645
Lem Hill was the only member of the Columbus quartet to survive the first and second rounds of play. He advanced to the semi-finals by vanquishing Captain Barrett 3 and 1 and R. W. Robinson, of LaGrange, 3 and 2 in the second round during the afternoon.

Three Atlanta golfers started in the first flight, but after today's play, Fred Minnich, Georgia university star, was the only survivor. He killed a tenamite, Paul Duke, in the morning round, winning by one hole. He advanced to the semi-finals in the afternoon round by beating W. H. Plamke, 1924 Columbus champion, 6 and 4. The Atlanta shot better than par golf and was simply too good for the Columbus contestant.

The cards of Minnich and Duke in the morning round were:
Duke out 654 736 443-41
Duke in 646 646 434-37
Minnich out 662 626 554-41
Minnich in 654 645 543-42-83
R. M. Hitch, of Savannah, who has played stellar golf throughout the tournament, defeated Fies Crenshaw, Montgomery star, and Jack Ellis, Columbus threat, to match to the semi-final. His match with Crenshaw was the most exciting of the day.

Gene Cook continued to win in today's play of the fourth flight despite his misfortune yesterday in the qualifying round. The amateur champion eliminated Harris Jones, Athens, in the first round 1 up at the nineteenth hole and followed in the afternoon with a triumph over W. R. Minnich, also an Atlanta, 7 and 5. The pairings for tomorrow are as follows:

First Flight.
Jack Crenshaw vs. R. M. Hitch.
Lem Hill vs. Fred Minnich.
Consolation:
R. M. Hitch vs. winner of F. C. Crenshaw vs. Jennings match.
Captain A. J. Barnett in final, defeating F. A. Duke, 4-6.
Second Flight.
J. M. Parker vs. Hugh Sannally.
George H. Smith vs. Captain J. S. Moore.
Consolation:
Joseph Flournoy vs. Captain Parker.
J. L. Cook vs. Gene Smith.
Third Flight.
R. J. Mayer vs. S. G. Bailey.
Gordon Flournoy vs. Charles Hickman.
Consolation:
J. Williams vs. Dana Blackmar.
J. J. Stegman vs. Captain J. W. Darr.
Fourth Flight.
Gene Cook vs. H. Clay.
P. Blumke vs. T. Moncrief.
Consolation:
Colonel Warfield vs. J. E. Flowers.
H. Jones went to final, winning over Duke by default.
Fifth Flight.
Captain Peabody vs. William Carver.
B. Burkes vs. Major Garrison.
Consolation:
B. Hodges vs. Captain A. E. Brown.
H. A. Barnett vs. Hugh McMath.
Sixth Flight.
Cal Desportes vs. O. J. Barnes.
R. E. Martin vs. J. W. Brown.
Consolation:
Walker Flournoy vs. Leon Camp.
F. Thomas vs. Pope Cole.

TENNIS STARS OF 3 STATES TO VISIT ROME

Rome, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—The Georgia-Alabama and Tennessee Tennis Association's annual tournament will begin August 16 on Coosa Country Club courts, according to an announcement made by officials of the association. Already some very notable tennis players have entered for the matches.

Last year at the completion of the tournament of the North Georgia Tennis tournament, won by J. P. Mayfield, of Cedartown, the members voted to change its name, as its entries had extended to the three states and an application was made to become a member of the United States Lawn Tennis association.

Players from the tennis section of this section of the state are expected to enter and handsome loving cups are to be given the winners and runners up. Because of the central location of Rome the tournament is to be an annual affair here.

Entries that have been announced from out of the city include: J. P. Mayfield, Cedartown, last year's champion, who will defend his title through the tournament; Jack Moody, Atlanta city champion; Jack Simpson, former city champion; Berry Grant, southern inter-collegiate champion, Atlanta, and Carolina doubles champion. A team composed of Rickenbacher and Brown, of Atlanta, and L. C. Allen, of Chattanooga, has also entered.

The formal invitations are being mailed and this is expected to bring a rush in entries in addition to those already made.

Rome players will include Dick Denny, Coosa club champion and former north Georgia champion; Jimmy Glover, former Coosa club champion; Gardner Wright, Bob Wyatt, Wingfield Glover, and a host of others.

J. C. Beatty Entry Wins at Endicott

Endicott, N. Y., July 30.—(P.)—J. C. Beatty's Madden took first money in the $5,000 2:15 trot, after Mary Wood, from the Ackerman stable, Goshen, had taken the first heat in that grand circuit event here today.

Tommy Murphy's gelding, Mike Dillon, won the $2,000 2:21 trot, stepping out of the field in the first two heats. Sonya, from the Good Time stable, Goshen, with Walter Cox, driving, furnished the competition, however, and led the field in the final mile.

Anna Bradford's girl, E. Roland Harriman's star, took the final two heats and won the $2,000 2:05 pace, after the pole horse, Kate Hal, the Canadian entrant of Ed Jackson, had romped home first in the opening heat.

The world trotting champion, Peter Manning, 1:58 3/4, driven by Alton McDonald in an exhibition event, broke Ideal Park's half-mile race track record, doing the mile in 2:05 1-2.

DENNY WINNER IN NET TILT AT COOSA CLUB

Rome, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Dick Denny is again tennis champion in men's singles at Coosa Country club. He defeated Wingfield Glover in the finals by a score of 3 to 2 sets. After winning two straight sets, the champion gave way before brilliant tennis of his opponent and lost two straight sets.

The score for the given sets was as follows: 6-4, 2-6, 3-6, 6-4. While neither of the sets went to deuce, many of the games did, and in the fourth set the eighth game went to 6 all, and had Denny won that game he would have won the set and the match by a score of 3-1. However, the younger player finally emerged the victor and then won the next game, winning that set and tying the match 2 all.

In the last set the eighth game again went to deuce, and was finally won by Glover to make the set square, but Denny settled and ended the match with brilliant tennis, winning three sets to two.

Denny has been champion of the men's singles many times at the Coosa Country club, and with his partner, Gardner Wright, has been doubles champion on numerous occasions. He has also held the north Georgia title several times.

Regan Fights Draw in Griffin

Griffin, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Benny Regan, of Atlanta, and Mickey Kendrick, of Columbus, fought 10 rounds to a draw here tonight before a large crowd. The decision was very popular.

The fight was full of action from the first bell to the last. Both fighters were in fine condition and showed no signs of weakening. From the opening round until the final gong, both boys mixed things with neither hand or foot.

When the hands of both fighters were raised when the final tap of the bell sounded, the crowd voiced approval of the decision.

"Storony" Mott, manager of the Atlanta youth, announces that Benny may be matched on the card promoted by Billy Lotz for next Friday night in Atlanta. The card will feature Tiger Flowers, middleweight champion of the world, and Battling McCreary, of Boston.

Rosenberg Wins On Foul in 2nd

Cleveland, July 30.—(P.)—Charley (Phil) Rosenberg, bantamweight champion of the world, won from Mike Smith, Chicago, on a foul in the second round of a scheduled 10-round bout at Taylor hotel here tonight.

Phil Kaplin, New York, won on a technical knockout over Larry Estridge, in the third round of another 10-rounder, because the former negro middleweight champion refused to fight.

The semi-final put on after the main bout, developed into the best of the card. It ended in a technical knock-out for Eddie Shea, Chicago, who floored Allentown Johnny Leonard ten times before the referee stopped it after Leonard took counts of nine three times in the sixth round.

Shea broke both of his hands.

LOUISVILLE CROPS LEVELED BY STORM

Louisville, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—The storm that has been raging along the Atlantic seaboard has had its effect on this section. Rains have been falling for the last 36 hours, and the farmers who have been needing showers for several weeks past have had them in abundance during the last two days. The earth is well drenched.

The wind has blown in almost gale-like proportions and the corn and other crops have been thrown upon the ground.

Ten Colts, One Filly Ready for Derby Today

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)
Chicago, Ill., July 30.—Ten colts and one filly were named today in the overnight entries for tomorrow's $100,000 American Derby.

There were several added starters that upset the calculations of the dopesters.

All of the 11 possible starters were taken out for short gallops today, but nothing was attempted in the nature of workouts over a distance of ground. The track was in perfect condition and unless rain falls will be lightning fast.

An added event tomorrow makes the program one of eight races. Post time for first has been advanced to 1:30 o'clock, half an hour earlier than usual.

A crowd of 40,000 is expected to see the 18th renewal of Chicago's 3-year-old turf classic, which has not been run since 1904 at old Washington park.

Field Not Notable.
While the field is not as notable as such a rich purse deserves, there are three great horses entered that should put up a fine turf fight. These three cannot be left out of the list of the best seven or eight 3-year-olds of the year by any calculations.

The race is clearly a three-cornered battle between Boot-to-Boot, Display and Black Maria, for there is nothing in the dope book of past performances to give any of the other starters more than an outside chance.

Black Maria is the only filly in tomorrow's race, and should she come home first the 3-year-old daughter of Black Tony-Bird Loose will have accomplished turf history. Modesty so far has been the only filly to win the American derby.

Disappointed.
Turf fans were disappointed when official announcement was made that

MARY BROWNE MAY BATTLE HELEN WILLS

East Hampton, N. Y., July 30.—(P.) Miss Mary Browne, of California, captain of the Wightman cup tennis team which recently brought back the international trophy, probably will meet the American champion, Helen Wills, in the finals of the Maldstone club invitation tournament here Sunday.

Miss Browne played one of the most thrilling matches of her career today in defeating Mrs. Molla Mallory, former American champion, 6-4, 6-4. Mrs. Mallory hit out with her old power and precision but Miss Browne covered court beautifully and refused to concede anything.

Both players showed far better tennis than did Miss Wills in conquering Mrs. Frederick Schmitz, of New York, 6-2, 6-1. Several times the champion erred when called on to quit the baseline, but offered no complaints after the match, her second since her operation for appendicitis.

CLEMENTS ADMITS FILING PETITIONS.
(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Chicago, Ill., July 30.—B. C. Clements, president of the Chicago Coliseum club, when told tonight of the report of papers being served on Jack Dempsey in Colorado Springs, made the following statement:

"The attorneys for the Coliseum club have drawn up petitions for injunctions restraining Jack Dempsey from fighting anyone until he fulfills his contract with us to fight Harry Wills. The papers are to be filed in five states, Missouri, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and New York. The injunction plea is to be filed in federal court."

"The Coliseum club is not starting a fight with anyone. We do not want to get into a legal squabble over this Dempsey fight, but we do intend to protect our interests. We have contracts with Dempsey which he has agreed to fight for our club in a championship battle with Harry Wills as challenger. We do not feel that we should stand back and let Dempsey break this contract by fighting anyone else than Wills or for anyone else than the Coliseum club."

If the federal court should issue the injunction asked by the Coliseum club, it would mean that the proposed Dempsey-Tunney battle which Tex Rickard is now planning in New York would not materialize.

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 30.—(P.)—B. F. Clements, Chicago, fight promoter, today filed application in United States court in Chicago, for an injunction forbidding the champion to fight under any contract other than the one he claims to hold with Dempsey.

Copy of the papers was served upon Dempsey here tonight by United States Deputy Marshal E. J. Harding, of Denver.

The application was filed by Granby W. Hillier, a Colorado attorney, for the Chicago Athletic club. A representative of Clements and the athletic club flew from Chicago to Denver to confer with Hillier before the application was filed.

Dempsey has 20 days in which to file an answer.

Babe Ruth Hits 32nd Home Run
St. Louis, July 30.—(P.)—Babe Ruth hit his 32nd home run of the season in the third inning of today's New York-St. Louis game. Gehrig was on base. Ballou was pitching.

for the heavyweight championship fight between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney at the Yankee stadium September 16 will go on, despite the possibility of a hitch in the license committee.

At a meeting of the directors of the new Madison Square Garden corporation today the entire situation was discussed, but no announcement was forthcoming.

It is understood that ways and means for holding the contest, should Colonel John J. Phelan refuse to grant licenses when he returns from his national guard camp at Peekskill, N. Y., were considered.

LaTrobe Cogswell, wired Rickard today that the Baltimore stadium, seating 100,000 would be available if the New York proposition falls through. Cogswell is head of the National Boxing association.

Rickard also received a telegram from Dempsey who said he would arrive in the east sometime next week, stopping over in Chicago for a couple of days.

Bright Future Predicted For Commercial Aviation By President Coolidge

Chief Executive Believes It Will Be Developed To Carry Merchandise as Well as Passengers.

Paul Smith's, N. Y., July 30.—(AP) President Coolidge believes that commercial aviation will be developed to the point that it will be convenient to carry merchandise as well as passengers in the air.

Although prediction for any industry as new as aviation is looked upon by Mr. Coolidge as uncertain, he feels that with improvements and inventions that can be looked for a useful and practical commercial field will be opened by the airplane.

Increased attention of the president has been given the subject as a result of the visit early this week of Edsel Ford, son of the Detroit manufacturer, whose report to Mr. Coolidge on the progress of the Ford interests in aviation was substantially as later given to the press.

When reduced to its lowest common denominator, it was said today in behalf of the president, commercial aviation means the transportation of merchandise and passengers on a convenient basis. It does not mean, it was added, as far as present developments would indicate, the carrying of such materials or necessarily large numbers of passengers.

The utility of any exact prediction, however, it was pointed out, is shown, for example, when one considers the forecasts made for the telephone and the telephone in their early days.

The expense of operation is yet high, it was continued, but progress is being made in this direction. The air mail, it was pointed out, now is earning close to one-half of the operating costs, not including such overhead as the purchase of planes, a showing better than the postoffice department had expected.

The views of President Coolidge on aviation and government problems were made known during a call at the executive offices in the afternoon. It was his second visit there of the day, he having spent considerable time at his desk in the morning.

Mr. Coolidge, it was said, may be able to go to Plymouth, Vt., next week, for a visit at his boyhood home.

Calgary, Alberta.—More than 4,000 tourists registered at the Calgary auto camp during the first two weeks of July, according to figures compiled here. Many of these tourists have come on to the summer resorts in the mountains of the province.

DIES SUDDENLY

SENATOR CUMMINS DIES SUDDENLY

His career in the United States senate.

Defeat Hastened Death.

How much his defeat by Brookhart in the Iowa primary had affected him remained a secret even to the senator's closest friends. Publicly he had indicated that he was glad to yield his high position to younger men if it was the will of the voters.

But privately the veteran legislator could not help but feel the sting of his defeat. Upon his arrival in Des Moines, Cummins caused a political sensation by predicting that President Coolidge would be swept aside in 1928 by the young man who had defeated him.

He made no speeches after returning to Des Moines, preferring to remain in the quiet of his home surrounded by members of his family.

For the first time in his political career, Cummins was not present when the state republican convention met here last week. The convention endorsed Brookhart.

Asked why he remained away the aged senator said:

"What would I answer if someone asked me if I would vote for Brookhart?"

Cummins' favorite saying was that he heeded the advice of Horace Greeley to go west. He came to Iowa in 1860 after having served in the army during the Civil War.

He was one of the most picturesque politicians ever produced by this part of the country. He was comparatively young when elected to the senate for the first time, and adopted the role of the "radical" midwesterner.

In the years that followed, however, Cummins became more and more conservative until in the last campaign he was recognized as a "regular" republican.

The senatorial term would have ended March 3, 1927.

Born in Pennsylvania.

Cummins was born at Carmichaels, Pa., on February 25, 1850. His college education was received at Wayneburg, Pa., where he was awarded the degree of doctor of laws, and at Cornell college in Iowa, where he was trained in surveying.

At one time he was assistant chief engineer on the Cincinnati, Richmond & Fort Wayne railroad.

Later he started the study of law in the offices of McClellan & Hodges at Chicago and was admitted to the Illinois bar in 1875. After practicing law in Chicago three years he moved to Des Moines and in 1888 won his first political office, a seat in the Iowa house of representatives.

He served three terms as governor of Iowa, from 1902 to 1908, and in the fall of 1908 was elected to the United States senate to succeed the late Senator Allison, whose term was to have expired in March of the following year.

Iowa voters returned him to the senate at each succeeding election for 18 years.

In 1874 he was married to Miss Ida L. Gallery, of Eaton Rapids, Mich. She preceded him in death by many years.

Cummins' best-known piece of legislation was the Bach-Cummins railroad bill.

DEATH ENDS LONG CAREER.

Washington, July 30.—The sudden death of Senator Albert B. Cummins, of Iowa, brought an end to a long and distinguished career in public service, 19 years of which were spent here in the senate, where he was for many years a leader.

Cummins came to the senate in 1908 as a progressive, after six years as governor of his state. He attracted much attention here in his early days by his outspoken progressiveness, which was contrasted in the recent campaign to the conservative stand that he had taken in his later years.

Cummins made his first electoral fight for the senate in 1900 against an opponent who was considerably older, and whose conservatism he denounced. His position at that time was compared to that of his opponent, Brookhart, in the recent campaign when the younger Iowa insurgent denounced the senator as a conservative.

Cummins came to the senate in 1908 by appointment, to fill an unexpired term.

BROOKHART PAYS TRIBUTE TO CUMMINS.

Des Moines, July 30.—(AP) —"Most of my political life has been spent side by side with Senator Albert B. Cummins," said Brookhart today. "For 15 years his picture has hung in my office beside that of Abraham Lincoln." This was the tribute paid the veteran senator late today by Colonel Smith W. Brookhart, who defeated Senator Cummins in the primary last June for the republican senatorial nomination.

Negroes Escape.

Tallahassee, Fla., July 30.—(AP) —Two negro prisoners, Will Baker and one known as Love, were assigned to the meeting Friday to speak Sunday at church services in Royston, Winder, Ga., and at the Rader revival service in Atlanta. A due by Luke and Ralph Rader, evangelists conducting the revival in the Whitehall street air dome, was a feature of the meeting which was held in Wesley Memorial church.

MADE FOR GUNMAN

Canton, Ohio, July 30.—(AP) —Country-wide search was begun today for Patrick Eugene McDermott, 28, of Cleveland, wanted as a principal in the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher. Ora Slater, detective heading the Stark county investigation, refused to designate McDermott as the man sought as the "trigger-man."

Pictures of McDermott are to be broadcast today to all police stations and detective agencies, and to all news picture services for release at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Slater said McDermott is to be sought for questioning, censorship was clamped on by investigators, in spite of the fact that earlier they had declared they had conclusive evidence against the "trigger-man."

According to information in the hands of the investigators, McDermott is an alleged gunman, has served a sentence in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, was in Canton at the time of the murder of Mellett, and dropped remarks construed to mean he was to have a part in the "job," evidently a murder conspiracy.

Slater admitted this afternoon that a man is being held in a jail in a city in the north, an associate in the murder investigation. The prisoner this morning positively identified the picture of McDermott as that of a man who had come to Canton at the time of the murder of "do a job," Slater said.

Slater said the prisoner was being held to protect him from an attack.

ROACH APPOINTED CANTON POLICE HEAD.

Canton, Ohio, July 30.—(AP) —Mayor S. M. Swartz, of Canton, this afternoon appointed Joseph Roach, of Chicago, criminal lawyer, as advisory counsel to Acting Chief of Police Earl W. Hexamer. Roach is to aid the police department in the investigation of the murder of Don R. Mellett and the vice conditions in Canton.

FORMER TENNESSEE AVIATOR ENDS LIFE IN PENNSYLVANIA

Erie, Pa., July 30.—(AP) —The body of William Johnson, 31, Erie, second lieutenant, army air service in the world war, was found in a field at Erie, Pa., where he had been missing since Monday. Clutched in his hand was the gun he used to end his life.

His widow lives at 1504 Union avenue, Chattanooga, Tenn. A note is said to have been found in the pocket addressed to relatives.

Last winter Johnson was badly injured in an airplane accident in Florida which prevented his re-enlistment in the air service.

MRS. EDWARD HALL RELEASED ON BAIL

after a sheriff had made a personal appeal to the crowd to stand back.

Mrs. Hall smiled, posed for photographers on the walk leading from the jail entrance, and laughed out loud as the crowd which had gathered to see her, she said, was jostled her into her car.

The automobile was pursued by a mob of some 500 persons, and photographers as it left town. Mrs. Hall was dressed in black and wore no veil.

No Other Arrests.

Prosecutor Bergen, of Somerset county, refused to comment on Mrs. Hall's release or on the amount of bail required.

He said that no other arrests were contemplated at present and that the grand jury would not be called in special session to consider the question of indicting Mrs. Hall.

The case will be presented in the regular way to the September jury which convenes on the third Tuesday in September," he asserted, adding that it would not be the first to come up at that time.

"Some fairly important evidence was uncovered today," he continued, "the number of witnesses who were interviewed but I cannot reveal their identity."

He received no notice of the appointment of a special prosecutor, but I would not be surprised if such an appointment were made; in fact, I am quite sure it will be made."

Chats With Friends.

Mrs. Hall was driven direct to her New Brunswick residence over a road which runs within a short distance of the field in which the bodies of her husband and Mrs. Mills were found. As her car passed, Benetclough park on the outskirts of New Brunswick, where she was reported to have met on the night of the slaying, she was chatting gaily with those who accompanied her.

When the car drew up to the Hall residence one photographer ran up an embankment on the lawn to set off a flashlight as Mrs. Hall walked toward the house. The effort to get a shot for the defense, who had been lifting Mrs. Hall's bag out of the car, swung it on the photographer, damaging his camera and hitting the man on the shoulder.

The Hall party then ran into the house and slammed the door.

MINSTREL PERFORMER AT LAKEWOOD CASINO

Bert Flynn, former end man for Al G. Fields' minstrels, appointed this week as official host and entertainer of the Lakewood park casino, will direct a carnival entertainment and dance in the casino at 8 o'clock tonight, the first of a series of entertainments planned to continue the remainder of the season. Proceeds will be added to the entertainment fund for the Southeastern fair, October 2 to 9.

SEND BUSINESS MEN TO SPEAK IN CHURCH

Members of the Atlanta Business Men's association club were assigned to the meeting Friday to speak Sunday at church services in Royston, Winder, Ga., and at the Rader revival service in Atlanta. A due by Luke and Ralph Rader, evangelists conducting the revival in the Whitehall street air dome, was a feature of the meeting which was held in Wesley Memorial church.

Religious Regulations Ordered in Mexico

Mexico City, July 30.—(AP) —The government religious regulations in brief are as follows:

No foreign ministers of any religion may function in Mexico; church ownership of property is forbidden; and all such property reverts to the state; religious instruction in schools is forbidden; religious orders such as convents and monasteries are forbidden; priests and ministers are forbidden to participate in politics, or to hold political meetings; to criticize the government, laws or acts of the government, or to incite others to do so; outdoor religious ceremonies and the wearing by priests of their religious robes outside of their churches or residences are forbidden; periodicals of religious nature are forbidden to comment upon the government's acts or to print news concerning the actions of the government.

Punishment may range from a fine of 500 pesos, or 15 days imprisonment, or both, up to six years imprisonment, or "additional punishment" as the court may care to impose. Trial by jury is not provided for.

the thousands who could not be reached personally.

Police Guard Cathedral.

Just before darkness settled over the city, a cordon of police was thrown around the cathedral, the police, stationed a few feet apart, preventing anyone approaching the cathedral itself was dark and deserted; no one was in the courtyard except a few soldiers guarding the doors.

A few priests, completing the inventory for delivery to the property committee tomorrow, were inside.

Across from the cathedral cathedral stood the president's palace, the Plaza de la Constitucion, upon which the cathedral and the palace front, crowds were beginning to gather, but they appeared to be there merely out of curiosity.

POPE IS RELUCTANT TO IMPOSE INTERDICT.

Rome, July 30.—(AP) —From the highest authority it is learned that Pope Pius does not desire to impose an official interdict in Mexico, unless this measure—which has not been used for almost three centuries—is absolutely necessary.

It is pointed out that the present conditions in that country, superficially resembling an interdict, through the absence of the celebration of masses and other religious functions, is not the result of action either by the Holy See or the Mexican government, but is a reaction to the conditions imposed by the Mexican government, rendering impossible normal religious life.

While the pontiff is deliberating on the steps to be taken, the Vatican is being inundated with a flood of messages from all parts of the world, particularly Spain and the Latin American republics, enthusiastically commending his attitude and urging stronger measures.

On the other hand there is a strong current among the cardinals here, all of whom are deeply concerned over the controversy in Mexico, and other ecclesiastics in favor of mild action as they feel that the situation may be solved without resorting to a measure the consequences of which perhaps may be too permanent and wide-sweeping.

CRESPI IS ORDERED EXPELLED BY MEXICO.

Mexico City, July 30.—(AP) —Monsignor Tito Crespi, in charge of the apostolic legation in Mexico City since the expulsion of Monsignor Caruana, the papal nuncio, has been expelled from the country today. The order came at the direction of President Calles because the government considered his presence in Mexico "inconvenient."

Monsignor Crespi was given 24 hours to depart, but on intervention of the apostolic legation the time was extended to 40 hours. He will, however, leave tomorrow night for Linden, N. J., where he will visit relatives for a few days on the way to Rome.

In a statement to The Associated Press Monsignor Crespi said:

"I am leaving Mexico with a clean conscience. I have not taken participation whatever in the present religious conflict, which has been handled solely by the Mexican archbishops and bishops. My attitude has been absolutely neutral in all Mexican local affairs, and the authorities are acquainted with that fact."

"But I am the representative of a power which has publicly announced its support of the Mexican episcopate's attitude and my presence is not desired. Let God will do the rest."

The prelate was reluctant about making his statement, because he feared it might be considered a violation of the last moment of his attitude of absolute non-participation in Mexican religious affairs.

"I am sorry the outrage done me is so tremendous," the statement said, "that it violates the sacred rights of liberty and reflects upon the church. At the same time I am sorry that it is so unimportant that it does not deserve to be considered as constituting an offer of atonement on my part alongside the great sufferings of my Mexican brothers. In truth, the Master had greater sufferings than these."

METHODIST BISHOP DENIES RELIGIOUS PERSECUTION.

New York, July 30.—(AP) —There is no religious persecution in Mexico today, in the opinion of Bishop George A. Miller, resident bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church in Mexico, who has just returned from Mexico City.

He said in a statement today that Mexico had been forced to use drastic means in the control of the ecclesiastical situation because "the Roman Catholic hierarchy in Mexico have openly refused to comply with the law of the land and have persistently meddled in politics." He said that the Catholic priests have organized an economic boycott with the open avowed purpose of bankrupting the country.

"This whole uproar," he said, "is worked up by a hierarchy which is content with not less than the political dominance of the country and demands that its followers give first allegiance to the pope and not to the constitution."

Declaring that what Mexico needs from the United States is "intelligent sympathy and moral support," the bishop closed his statement with the assertion: "It looks like a fight to the finish between the pope and the president and the least we can do is to keep our hands off."

MANY HURRIED WEDDINGS MARK CHURCH CLOSINGS.

Mexico City, July 30.—Scores of weddings every day have kept the modistes, decorators and caterers in Mexico City just as busy as the priests during the last in the week that Catholic churches will be open.

Many dressmaking establishments have remained open day and night in order to finish gowns to be used in the hurried nuptials. In some cases efforts have been made to have elaborate weddings despite the address occasioned by the religious laws, and decorators and caterers have been in great demand.

One priest told the United News Friday that he had officiated at more than 50 weddings a day during the week.

FOREIGNERS LEAVING FOR NEARBY RESORTS.

Mexico City, July 30.—Fearing possible outbreaks in Mexico City Sunday in connection with the religious dispute many foreigners are hurrying to nearby resorts, while others are buying sufficient supplies to enable them to remain indoors during the week-end.

American Ambassador Sheffield and his family have gone to Curnavaca, where they will remain until Monday, but the embassy staff will remain on duty.

Reliable reports said that a group of Catholics called on Sheffield before his departure and urged that he seek a means of mediation in the religious controversy. Their request was said to have been refused by the ambassador.

ARCHBISHOP OF MEXICO THANKS U. S. CATHOLICS.

BY JOHN CORNWYN. (Copyright, 1926, by The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Mexico City, July 30.—Monsignor Jose Mora y Del Rio, archbishop of Mexico, and head of the Catholic church in Mexico, in an interview today, sent his salutations to the people of the United States, Catholics and nonCatholics alike, who have exhibited a strong sympathy for the Catholics of Mexico in their struggle for religious liberty.

The archbishop said the attitude of the church in Mexico is one of opposition to the government or laws of Mexico, but a struggle to preserve intact the rules, laws, regulations and customs of the church. The laws restraining the church are calculated to disrupt church discipline, he declared. The civil law requiring the registration of the priests is calculated to disrupt the church organization in all the occupants of the churches should hold them through the church, otherwise the priests would be subject to two conflicting jurisdictions.

The Catholic church has no objection to the registration of priests civilly, provided such registration comes through the church organization, recognizing the right of the church first to registration and the delivery of such registrations to the civil authorities by the proper supervising church authorities. Such a plan, according to the archbishop, should be satisfactory to both parties, as it would secure the civil registration demanded by the government and preserve the church's traditional customs of organization and registration.

GOVERNMENT CHALLENGE AIMED AT ROME.

Mexico City, July 30.—As the Catholic churches of Mexico prepared to close their doors for the first time in hundreds of years, the government today issued a direct challenge to Rome today by arresting and preparing to deport Tito Crespi, secretary of the papal delegation in Mexico City since 1921.

Crespi, an American citizen of Italian birth, was taken into custody by the department of the interior while scores of thousands were coming to the cathedral here during the final hours of services by priests.

The day, which marked the beginning of what is expected to be the greatest religious struggle the new world has ever known, brought thousands from many sections of Mexico into the capital.

Crowds Come to Mass.

Sandaled Indian pilgrims, country folk with their garden truck ready for the markets and prosperous farmers come in wagons and on foot to be present for 5 o'clock mass in the morning. Every church in the federal district was thronged with fervently emotional Mexicans and Indians who sought the sight of their priests at worship before that opportunity passed.

The Villa Guadalupe, five miles outside Mexico City, where is located the shrine of the virgin saint of the Mexicans, was thronged by religious pilgrims who began their devotions shortly after dawn and were followed by others throughout the day. The work of the day was broken by a brief pause before the statue of the virgin saint, while the pilgrims knelt in silent worship before taking up the burdened trek toward town.

"July 31—Boycott."

This brief announcement, posted in trees and public buildings in the capital, reminded the faithful that their battle against the state was beginning. Merchants claimed today that no appreciable slump in trade had been noticed as a result of the economic boycott by Catholics, but they admit anticipation of a steady decline from now on. Some persons are already refusing to receive deliveries of goods.

Attorney General Ortega, who Thursday stated that all Catholics possessing arms without a license would be deprived of their weapons immediately, continued plans for meeting any opposition by churchmen to the religious orders of the state. He issued a circular letter to all prosecuting attorneys reminding them that regulations 15 and 14 of the penal code were intended to prevent gunsmen by Catholic publications on political matters.

The question of raising the embargo of January 7, 1925, it was said today in behalf of Mr. Coolidge, has been discussed by the president and Secretary Kellogg, from time to time over a long period, but no definite conclusions have ever been reached on the subject.

While there have been indications that the matter might be discussed by them again when Mr. Kellogg is in a guest at the summer white house next month, it was made clear that no immediate action toward raising the embargo could be looked for at present.

EMBARGO ON ARMS NOT TO BE RAISED.

Paul Smith's, N. Y., July 30.—(AP) President Coolidge does not expect that any action whatever will be taken in the immediate future about lifting the embargo on arms and munitions to Mexico.

SIX KILLED IN SKIRMISH.

Mexico City, July 30.—(AP) —Troops defeated the outlaw band headed by the Vidales brothers in the state of Guerrero, killing six and wounding four of the bandits. The others escaped.

Convict To Die.

Pittsburgh, July 30.—(AP) —Paul Orlikowski, a convict at the Western Pennsylvania penitentiary, was sentenced to death by Criminal Court Judge A. B. Reid today for the slaying of two guards during a riot at the prison in February, 1924.

Comedy-Mystery To Be Featured At Morning Matinee

The great comedy-mystery, "Seven Keys to Baldpate," with Douglas McLean in the leading role, which comes to the Saturday matinee for juniors at the Howard this week, will undoubtedly prove one of the most popular programs of the season. To this super-comedy is added another for good measure, with Buster Brown and his dog friend, "Tige," as actors.

"Seven Keys to Baldpate" deals with the adventures of a young author who is forced by his publisher either to finish the book upon which he is working at a given time or lose his sweetheart, the publisher's daughter. Faced with the necessity of writing the entire book over night, he goes to a deserted inn, to which he is given the only key, and there takes part in such mysterious adventures that will keep the matinee youngsters on the edge of the seat with excitement. Those who have already seen the play or the picture are asked not to divulge the secret of the ending to those seeing it for the first time.

Little Miss Evelyn Sears, of the Morton School of Dancing, will be the interesting prolog feature this week.

Those invited were Miss Spencer, Miss Steffert, Miss Mary Prim, Miss Martha Buchanan, Miss Julia McLendon, Miss Carroll Thompson, Miss Susie Calwell, of Chester, S. C., and Miss Elizabeth Witherspoon, of Lancaster, S. C., the guests of Mrs. W. E. Calwell.

Atlantans Register At High Hampton.

Among the Atlantans guests at High Hampton Inn, Cashiers, N. C., are Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Holmes, Dr. and Mrs. James H. Duncan, Dr. and Mrs. Lawson Thornton, Mrs. George W. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Marshall, the Misses Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. William Chiles, Mrs. O. E. Horton, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Childs, of Eustis, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. F. Kennedy, of Miami, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Hal McKee, of St. Petersburg, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Brice, of Charlotte, N. C., are also registered at High Hampton Inn.

Miss Helen Noble Is Honored.

Miss Helen Noble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Noble, of Atlanta, took the part of the bride in a very beautiful flower wedding held at Senior Camp Nakanawa, Mayland, Tenn., Saturday evening last.

The wedding, which was the feature event in a flower carnival, was held on the beautiful open-air terrace, overlooking the large lake at Nakanawa, and Miss Noble's gold and hair and glimmering white dress created an effect that was indescribably lovely among the vivid costumes of her gaily-dressed flower attendants.

Miss Lillian J. Carter Weds Mr. Wolf.

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Joseph Carter of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lillian Jane Carter, to Charles Francis Wolf, the ceremony taking place in Chattanooga, Tenn., July 28, at the Church of St. Peter and St. Paul.

After September 1 Mr. and Mrs. Wolf will be at home at 70 East Fifth street, Atlanta. She has been superintendent of the Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children ever since its organization in August, 1915, and it is said that the success of this wonderful institution is due more to her, through her executive ability, love for the children and ability as a nurse, than to any other one person.

A native of California, she came to Atlanta from the Children's hospital, of Seattle, Wash., of which she was head, and has won the greatest admiration and gratitude from the members of the Scottish Rite and the woman's auxiliary.

Mr. Wolf, originally of Louisville, Ky., has made his home in Atlanta for several years and is now a member of the passenger department of the Atlanta and West Point railroad. During the world war Mr. Wolf served in the American army as a member of the Elks' club and the Knights of Columbus.

Early Passage Of French Finance Bill Is Forecast

Paris, July 30.—(P)—The chamber of deputies today cleared its decks for prompt passage of the financial measures to be introduced by the newly-named Poincare ministry to rehabilitate French finances.

It is expected in political circles that the new premier and his cabinet of "national reconciliation" will now be able to push their measures through both houses in a few days.

The chamber by a vote of 350 to 201 today surrendered its privilege of proposing and discussing amendments to Premier Poincare's financial bill. Only a few days ago it cut down on the length of time that speakers might have in presenting their views before the chamber.

By these acts the chamber has voluntarily granted virtually the same full powers to the Poincare ministry which it refused to former Premier Caillaux, thus causing the downfall of the tenth Briand cabinet.

The franc rallied slightly today, closing at 41.57 to the dollar against 41.93 yesterday. The market appeared in a state of expectancy, awaiting Premier Poincare's explanations before the chamber tomorrow.

The premier has let it be known that his present plans are only a stop gap. As soon as they are adopted by parliament, he intends to begin drafting other measures of more permanent qualities with a view to amortization of the internal debt as the first step toward stabilization.

W. J. WILLINGHAM, of Tavares, Fla., former prominent Atlanta lumber merchant, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. A. Gregory, in Euclavia, Ala., Thursday.

A native of South Carolina, Mr. Willingham lived in Atlanta for many years and was well known in business and civic life of the city.

The body passed through Atlanta Friday en route to Chattanooga, Tenn., where funeral services and interment will be held during the day.

BUILDING PLANS FOR AUDITORIUM AT EMORY CHANGED

Because of recent incendiary fires along fraternity row at Emory university, Dr. Harvey W. Cox, president of Emory, announced Friday that plans covering the erection of a new auditorium will be changed so that the building will contain space for a dining hall. The present dining hall is housed in a wooden structure and activities of the firebug recently have caused university officials to realize the critical condition that would arise in the event the dining hall was destroyed during the school term.

A contract for the building has already been let to the Southern Ferro Concrete company and will cost approximately $125,000, and will be completed by January 1, it was stated. Under the tentative plans, the old dining hall will be converted into a temporary gymnasium.

Sawyer Ordered Moved.

San Antonio, Texas, July 30.—(AP) Federal Judge Duval West ruled today that John R. Sawyer, held in county jail here, be extradited to Danville, Va., where he had been indicted on a charge of impersonating a department of justice agent. Sawyer probably will be carried to Danville next week by a United States deputy marshal.

CITY COUNCIL AWARDS 2 PAVING CONTRACTS

Only two street paving projects were passed by the street committee of city council Friday afternoon. Bids were awarded for 2,614 square yards of paving on Tallapoosa street between Emerald street and West Hunter street, and 6,227 square yards of paving was awarded on Fletcher street between McDaniel street and Fortness avenue. Both bids were awarded to the Pittman Construction company, at $2.22 a square yard.

ACTION IS TAKEN IN TWO HEARINGS FOR EXTRADITION

Action on two petitions for honoring extradition papers was taken Friday by John Wilson, personal secretary to Governor Clifford Walker. In one case requisition papers issued by Governor John W. Martin, of Florida, for the extradition of Patrick Cooper, wanted in Leon county for alleged automobile theft, were honored. In the case of John E. Dorsey, wanted in Lafayette, Ind., on an embezzlement charge, the petition for extradition papers was denied because an attempt was being made to use extradition laws to collect a civil debt.

REVIVAL BEING HELD AT HOLSEY TEMPLE

At Holsey temple, C. M. E. church, at Boulevard and Edgewood avenue, an interesting and largely attended revival is being conducted by the Rev. R. O. Langford, of Monroe, N. C. The denominational evangelist has been conducting services since last Monday night. The pastor, G. H. Carter, says the evangelist will remain only 12 days longer. Presiding Elder J. D. Hudson, of the Atlanta district, and Bishop R. A. Carter, of Chicago, will aid the meeting, beginning Monday night.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

IN FEBRUARY 1915, THE U.S. FRIGATE CONSTITUTION, THEN UNDER COMMAND OF CAPTAIN STEWART, WHO HAD NOT YET HEARD THAT THE WAR WAS OVER, WAS ATTACKED BY TWO BRITISH SHIPS, THE CYANE AND THE LEVANT, OFF THE ISLAND OF MADEIRA.

AFTER FORTY MINUTES OF FIGHTING, THE CONSTITUTION FORCED BOTH HER ADVERSARIES TO STRIKE THEIR COLORS. THIS WAS THE LAST NOTWORTHY ENGAGEMENT OF THE WAR OF 1812.

THE WAR HAD GIVEN AMERICANS A NEW SPIRIT OF NATIONALISM AND FREED THEM FROM EUROPEAN INFLUENCE. THEREFORE THERE WERE NO MORE "FRENCH" OR "ENGLISH" PARTIES IN THE POLITICS OF OUR COUNTRY.

Lessons of the War.

JUST BEFORE THE WAR (1911) THE CHARTER OF THE BANK OF THE UNITED STATES HAD EXPIRED AND ATTEMPTS TO RENEW IT FAILED. THE WAR SHOWED THE WEAKNESS OF THE STATE BANKS AND THE NEED OF A PAPER CURRENCY THAT WOULD BE ACCEPTED THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY.

AS A RESULT, IN 1914 THE SECOND BANK OF THE UNITED STATES WAS CHARTERED FOR TWENTY YEARS. ITS CAPITAL WAS SET AT $35,000,000, AND SOON IT BECAME A GREAT POWER.

DO YOU KNOW AS MUCH AS YOUR CAT?

She's a knowing cat. She asks for little—just her meals a saucer of milk and a place in the sun. She gets plenty of sleep and exercise. She never worries, never frets. What is the result? Such vitality and resistance that we say "Cats have nine lives."

What does your cat do when she is not well? She eats catnip, if she can find it. She eats grass and certain green plants to which her instinct leads her. Your cat takes herbs for a tonic. Did you ever stop to think that Old Mother Nature, who supplies the herbs necessary to your cat's health, has also provided the herbs necessary to your own well-being? You don't have to hunt for them as the cat does. The herbs you need are skillfully blended and compounded in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, an old-fashioned tonic that will help to restore your energy.

Commerce Body Asked to Approve New Rail Leases

Washington, July 30.—(AP)—A realignment of relationships between various roads making up the New York Central system was laid before the interstate commerce commission today for its approval. The new arrangement would be based on a series of 99-year leases. The New York Central itself would lease the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis (Big Four), the Michigan Central and the Chicago, Kalamazoo & Saginaw, while the Big Four, in turn, would lease the Cincinnati, Northern & Evansville, Indianapolis & Terre Haute. In each case the applicant for a lease already controls, directly or indirectly, the mileage involved.

100 NEW INDUSTRIES BROUGHT TO ATLANTA

Addition of more than 100 new industrial enterprises, of a class that will prove highly beneficial to Atlanta's future growth, were announced Friday by Ivan Allen, having come to the city since the $250,000 advertising campaign of the Forward Atlanta commission, in close coordination with the industrial bureau, began last February.

Mr. Allen, who was speaking before the regular luncheon of the Civitan club in the new Athletic Club building, outlined the history of the campaign, from the time the fund was first raised through the planning and execution of the actual advertising of national scope. The speaker paid high tribute to the spirit which raised the fund and declared that it was the largest single fund ever raised for community publicity.

Home on Leave.

Following his graduation from the navy electrical school at Hampton Roads, Va., July 25, R. C. Allen, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Allen, of 75 Fenton drive, is spending a short leave of absence with his parents. Before entering the navy, Allen was a pupil at O'Keefe Junior High school, where he made an excellent record in class work and athletics. Young Allen is enthused over the promise of his career in Uncle Sam's water service and declares that he intends to serve the full 20 years necessary to retirement.

DENY RESTRAINING ORDER ON BONDS

Request that a temporary restraining order be issued to prevent the city of Atlanta from selling any bonds voted last March for viaducts, schools, sewers and water, pending hearing on petition for a permanent injunction filed by Thomas B. Brady, former Atlantan, now of Los Angeles, who alleges that building of the Central avenue viaduct will damage certain Central avenue property owned by him, was denied Friday in this district federal court by Judge Samuel H. Sibley.

Judge Sibley set Monday morning, August 9, at 10 o'clock for the hearing on the temporary order. In reply to repeated requests of Attorney George Spence, representing Brady, that the court issue a temporary restraining order, Judge Sibley declared that it would be incumbent upon him to state in such an order the reasons therefor. To this Mr. Spence replied that his reason in asking such an order would be to protect "innocent holders" of the bonds. Mr. Spence contended that the bonds were illegal on the grounds that the city had provided only $1,000,000 for the twin viaduct project, when the actual cost of construction plus alleged liability damages to property owners was more than $7,000,000. Mr. Mayson declared that there was nothing in the Brady suit touching on emergency, which would be the only grounds under federal statutes that would allow the issuance of a temporary restraining order.

Mr. Brady set out in his petition that he is the owner of warehouse property on Central avenue, south of Hunter street, which would be damaged by construction of the Central avenue viaduct.

The Misty Pathway

By FLORENCE RIDDELL

Richenda Peterson, a London girl, with five thousand pounds in a new bank account and a desire to see the world in travel. The east coast of Africa is the greatest source of adventure to her, and her journey for the first time in her life is about to start.

AN UNPLEASANT ENCOUNTER

The next few days were full of amusement to Richenda Peterson. The varied types she found among her fellow passengers interested her immensely. One by one she watched people pair off in couples or form little cliques. The pretty widow who shared her cabin had taken a comely census of the masculine possibilities within a couple of hours of boarding the boat, and the same evening, over the hair brushing orgy, had revealed her feelings to Richenda in an angry outburst.

"Don't be so dear, that's what the men on this boat are! Absolutely stupid! There isn't one of them worth wasting time on!" Nevertheless, she managed to waste a good deal of this particular commodity upon them. One by one they drifted into little Mrs. Johnson's circle, fetched her rugs and cushions, brought her morning line squashes, evening cocktails, listened to the naughty quips which fell from her pretty tinted lips. For a while Richenda, too, was in the laughing circle, but she felt oddly ill at ease among them and gradually she dropped into the habit of spending her hour curled up in the deck chair she had drawn to an isolated corner, poring over her well loved books of poetry.

The baby of missionary ladies aboard did not interest her. The charming young deck officers who loitered by her chair with idle conversation found her oddly unresponsive. The married men who, having left wives in England, were ready to flirt with any unclaimed young woman aboard the vessel, after a while voted Richenda dull.

She didn't understand why they should wish her to come and sit among the dark seclusion of the boat deck—or pretended she didn't, which came to the same thing in the end.

"I am quite comfortable here, thank you," she would say calmly, snuggling down a little further into her cushions, and the unattached gentlemen would drift off elsewhere, lest the opportunities of their unusual freedom might be lost.

But Richenda was happy. She liked to sit apart and watch these people—even dissect them a little bit. Everything was new and delightful to her; she didn't want to mix in the hurly-burly of "board ship" life too soon.

She read her beloved poetry—sat for hours gazing across the changing light of the Atlantic, resting, dreaming.

So the S. S. Tibetan rolled down the English channel past the twinkling lights of Lighthouses to the Bay of Biscay, which, in spite of its bad name, behaved remarkably well. The weather grew a little warmer now.

"We are hitching up at Gibraltar early tomorrow morning," Agatha Johnson told Richenda after a few days at sea. "With whom are you going ashore?"

"Ah, no," he said, "nice ladies do not walk alone in Gibraltar."

Richenda stared. "I don't know," she said a little vaguely. "Couldn't you and I?"

"Isn't done, my child! D'you know, you've been remarkably lax. Every sensible woman 'gathers eyes' before she has been two days aboard. Simply get to get hold of some one to run her round all the ports the boat stops at—to 'stand Sam' in the way of buying local curios, etc. Didn't you know that?"

"I never thought about it," answered Richenda.

"Well," the little widow went on composedly, "you've still got this evening! Make yourself nice and old Col. Grimshaw, my dear. He has money enough to buy all 'Bib' for you! 'Id'—she sighed regretfully—"I have reserved him for myself if I hadn't had my hands full with Jack McAndrews. But Jack is just the sort to go off in a huff if you let another man butt in—I don't risk it at present."

Richenda knitted her black brows a little angrily. "I suppose I can go round Gibraltar by myself," she said, coldly.

Agatha laughed. "Of course you can, dear girl, but, don't you see, every other woman on board will think you can't get a cavalier, or at least that's what they'll say!"

"Why should I trouble what they say?"

"And, anyway, if you do go about alone you'll find it frightfully expensive—" which remark decided Richenda Peterson that, whatever happened, she would explore Gibraltar by herself.

Much to her surprise the next morning, she had two offers of masculine escort, both of which she smilingly but most decidedly turned down. She'd show the little widow that she, Richenda Peterson, could stick to her own independence!

The huddled crowd of quaint shops under the shadow of the great rock interested her vastly as she wandered from one to another, purchasing here a curio, there a piece of beautifully worked lace, further on a basket of green and purple figs.

The drifting medley of cosmopolitan human beings added color and movement to the scene. By the edge of the cobbled pavement an Indian fakir argued with a black-eyed Portuguese. Across an umbrella shaded stall a bespectacled Japanese student bargained with a red fezzed Arab. Further on the air was heavy with the clamor of a market place.

At length Richenda's steps led her out of the town along the white road leading up to the fortifications.

The way was lonelier here. Occasionally a peasant cart drawn by sturdy Spanish oxen passed her, the bronze skinned driver showing flashing teeth in an amiable smile as he trundled by. Further on luck favored her with a glimpse of Gibraltar's famous baboons. She stood watching the great creature as they bounded from rock to rock on the grass draped slope above; laughed as one mother, jockeying a chubby infant on its back, stopped to direct a volume of grinning chatter at her.

"The mees is 'appy,'" Richenda started as the words came softly across her shoulder, and swayed round to find herself gazing into the depths of a pair of bold dark eyes. There was something in those eyes which held her dumb a moment, something evilly fascinating, a little sinister. She stepped back, dumbly gazing at the man who had addressed her.

Sensuous, smiling, crimson lips were set in a lean, dark face. And the man's broad brimmed felt hat was pushed back to reveal an oily lock of long black hair straying across his narrow forehead.

Her face whitened suddenly. No other human being was in sight down the long white road. She gave a little frightened gasp.

"The mees will walk with me!"

She found her voice then. "Go away," she cried. "Go away at once!"

He laughed softly, a little menace creeping into his narrowed eyes. "Ah, no," he said. "Nice ladies do not walk alone in Gibraltar. It cannot be permitted. I'll make escort for the English lady."

"I am going back to my boat," she said, making a movement to retrace her steps.

"Ah—no—" The voice was a little harsh between the cruel white teeth. "I think the mees will favor her adoler with something worse of her company than that. Come now, does not the old song tell us—just a little love—a little kiss?"

Suddenly the felt hat was bashed by a strong, slim hand over his eyes down to his singing lips, and Richenda was running down the long white road as if all the demons of the nethermost regions were hard upon her heels.

Washington, July 30.—(AP)—Despite some dissatisfaction with the mid-winter data for taking the decennial population census, the 1930 enumeration will proceed on the same method and at the same time of year as the 1920 count.

Announcing this decision today, census bureau officials said that the population census coincides with the census of agriculture, and January is a much more convenient month than July for obtaining farm statistics. Many farms pass into the hands of new owners or tenants in the spring, and between midwinter and July much data on crops, acreage and other major matters is lost.

January has been found to be undesirable for the population census because of inclement weather. Deep snows and heavy storms in the northern, northwestern and Rocky mountain states delayed returns on the 1920 tabulation, but bureau officials decided that this disadvantage was not sufficiently great to justify a transfer of activities to July, as had been suggested.

Tubulation and compilation will be speeded greatly in 1930, they said, because of improvements in the tabulating, punching and sorting machines over 1920.

FORBES AT WORK IN PRISON WHERE HE SERVES TERM

Chicago, July 30.—(AP)—Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former head of United States Veterans' bureau and now serving a two-year sentence in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan., has been placed in charge of the prison's construction work. He is supervising the erection of new buildings, including a structure to house the administration offices.

Forbes' knowledge of engineering and his eagerness to hold the post won him the appointment. He was convicted here with the late John Thompson, wealthy St. Louis contractor, of fraud in leasing contracts for the building of hospitals for disabled veterans.

"LEADERSHIP" IS TOPIC Baptist Young People's Union Hears Address

Greenville, S. C., July 30.—(AP)—The annual convention Baptist Young Peoples Union of South Carolina got underway at Furman Friday morning, being formally opened by an address on "Leadership" given by the president, Rev. J. H. Miller, of Blackville, W. E. Brant, Jr. of Baggett, Dr. R. G. Lee, Mrs. J. M. Lee, and Dr. E. L. Lambdin, of Nashville, Tenn., also spoke during the morning hour.

"There are three requisites for leadership," said Rev. Miller. "The leader must know and know how. He must know where he is going, how to get there and lead them to the common destination."

Atlanta Theatre. The matinee and evening performance today will mark the final showing of "Katinka," the offering of the Municipal Opera association for the month at the Atlanta theatre.

"Katinka" has proved one of the most pleasing shows of the entire season. It is straight musical comedy and has been a contrast to the light opera productions which preceded it. Vera Meyers runs away with the show in the name part as the pretty Russian bride. Louis Foster, the popular comedian, is easily at his best in Thaddeus Hopper, the wealthy American tourist, who stumbles into a Turkish harem. Arthur Lago plays opposite him as Helen Hopper, his wife.

The Rialto. Norman Kerry and Ward Crane, who are members of the all-star cast of "Under Western Skies," an Edward Sedgwick-Universal-Jewel production that is closing today at the Rialto theatre are the best of friends yet the fortunes of their profession have made them deadly enemies. They have appeared together in two big Universal productions—"The Phantom of the Opera" and "Under Western Skies."

Columbia, S. C., July 30.—(AP)—Work on the Columbia-Granville state highway will be intensified between now and fall, according to a statement made this morning by Charles H. Moorefield, chief highway engineer of the state highway department.

The road between Prosperity and Newberry is now being worked on, said Mr. Moorefield, "and the work is showing satisfactory progress. The contractors will finish that up during the fall. Then we will 'surface treat' the section of the road between Fountain Inn and Laurens in September. This work will be done in the same way that the road between Mauldin and Fountain Inn was treated."

The road from the end of the paved section to the Columbia river, between Prosperity and Newberry, will also be surface treated. All of this work will be finished during the fall.

"The section of the highway between Newberry and Clinton will be its last ground, and this time there are no funds available for such work in these counties."

Report Denounces Dream of Gould For Great Road

Washington, July 30.—(AP)—The holdness with which the late George J. Gould attempted to bring into material being a dream of a transcontinental railroad and left in the wake of the effort a string of disconnected railroads, receiverships, worthless securities and tragedy to hundreds of investors, was denounced in a report made public today by the interstate commerce commission.

It was based on an investigation instituted by the commission five years ago into the interrelated financial operations of the old and new Denver Rio Grande Western railroads and the original and reorganized Western Pacific system. All of them came to one time or another in the early part of the 20th century piled upon the financial rocks as a climax to the stuporous undertaking to cross the continent by rail.

The Western Pacific was to have been provided by Rocky Mountain Pacific end of the transcontinental system, but the action of Gould and others in selling out the Denver & Rio Grande, the Denver & North Pacific, and the Denver & South Pacific, to whether the latter could bear it, led to impairment of its own facilities, came in for the same fate.

The insolencies and receiverships summarized were all traceable, the report said, to one source, "the assumption in 1905 by the Denver companies of obligations with respect to the Western Pacific and its securities which were beyond their ability to fulfill."

The enormous losses by stockholders and bondholders and the long period of ineffectual railroad service followed as the natural economic results of that one ill-advised undertaking.

LEAVES $20,000 TO GIRL HE KNEW FOR ONLY 2 DAYS

(Copyright, 1928, by The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.) Vienna, July 30.—Somewhere in central Europe there is a pretty Polish girl named Bregulitch. The girl does not know that she has inherited $20,000 from an American with whom she was acquainted only two days.

Leaving years ago, Charles Bregulitch, a poor Polish boy, emigrated to the United States, became rich and was naturalized. In 1915 he came to Vienna, where he met and married a girl in an amusement park. Two days later Bregulitch left the city and never saw the girl again.

Leaving her died at Milton, Ontario, and willed $20,000 to the girl and a former friend, plus $5,000 to the latter on condition that he would spend it in locating the girl.

TO LEAD SOVIET New Chief of Workers and Peasants Selected.

Moscow, July 30.—(AP)—It is understood that Vladimir Kuybyshev, now chief of the workers and peasants inspection, and president of the central committee of the communist party, will be given the post of head of the supreme economic council, made vacant by the recent death of M. Dzerzhinsky.

It is said, S. Orgenokidze, of Tiflis, a highly influential Georgian and a supporter of M. Stalin, of the executive committee of the communist party, will take M. Dzerzhinsky's place as head of the state political police, formerly known as the "Cheka."

George Pyand, who was Dzerzhinsky's right-hand man on the supreme economic council, has been relieved of his post.

STEALING CHARGED Three Automobiles Alleged To Have Been Taken.

New Orleans, July 30.—(AP)—In an effort to raise funds with which to finance his wedding, Thomas J. Sellers, 30, of Baton Rouge, La., stole three automobiles, police said, he told them when arrested here today.

The cars are alleged to have been taken from a honeymoon trip to Havana. Police reported that Sellers had planned a honeymoon trip to Havana.

THOMAS M'MANUS, AGED POLITICIAN, DIES IN NEW YORK

New York, July 30.—(AP)—Thomas J. McManus, former mayor of Tammany leader of the fifth district, died today at his home in West 40th street.

He was 64 years old and was one of the most picturesque of the old-time leaders of Tammany hall. High blood pressure was the cause of his death.

The west side was thrown into mourning when the news of his death spread. He was often called "the humane politician in New York."

Engineers Give Approval. Washington, July 30.—(AP)—Army engineers approved today an application by the Atlantic Coast Line railway for permission to close to navigation for a two-months' period the lower end of the Chesapeake bay, at the request of President Coolidge. Justice Van Fleet's home is in South Bend, Ind., but he retired to his old practice of law.

SPOTS IN NEW YORK. New York, July 30.—(AP)—Cotton, spot quiet; middling 19.15.

PRICES DECLINE AT NEW ORLEANS. At New Orleans, July 30.—(AP)—The cotton market was comparatively quiet today and after an early spurt due to the heavy and general rains in the eastern belt, which carried prices up 8 to 9 points, the market turned easier on week-end liquidation and some selling based on the theory that a reaction was about due and the trend was downward for the rest of the day, the low points reached near the end showing a decline from the early high of 22 to 23 points.

The decline was helped by a sharp drop in the New York stock market and probably a desire to even up commitments in advance of Secretary Hearst's annual totals of consumption and carryover was an added cause of the easier tone. The market closed near the low showing net declines in its last ground, and was 17.14 to 17.22, 17.25 to 17.31, 17.34 to 17.40, 17.43 to 17.49, 17.52 to 17.58, 17.61 to 17.67, 17.70 to 17.76, 17.79 to
